

Ten Cents Is the New Price of The Ladies' Home Journal

The reduced price takes effect with the biggest October issue ever published.

Following the established policy of The Curtis Publishing Company to give the greatest possible value for the least possible money, it has for years been the aim of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, as it has been the achievement of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, to provide the homes of America with the best magazine in its class, at the lowest price.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL circulation is now at the highest point in its history. Our fall issues are the largest and finest ever made.

Booth Tarkington, Otis Skinner, Senator Borah, Corra Harris, Harry Emerson Fosdick and a score of others, together with the latest fashions and with household features from the Journal's testing kitchen, are in October. Edith Wharton, Zane Grey, Joseph C. Lincoln and many others are coming.

Business Women at Meeting Here Greet Number of Visitors

Several visitors were welcomed at the Business and Professional Women's club luncheon today at St. Ann's Inn, among them Dr. Mary
Wright, Miss Elizabeth Campbell,
Miss Sophie Dibber and Miss Monica Ralph.

Preliminary plans for the autumn dinner were discussed, the president, Miss Doris Robbins, announcing that Miss Humphries, Miss Quill and Miss Chilton, prominent in the sister club of Los Angeles, would be honor guests of the evening and that it was planned to ask the Anaheim club to join in the event. October is the date chosen and members may ask guests. The October program committee promises a musical evening.

Many new members are being received into the club each meeting.
Information about dues, initiation fee and other details of membership may be obtained from Miss Robbins or Mrs. Helen Stedman, club secretary.

Entertaining features at today's luncheon were furnished by various members.

Red Signal Light Now Summons City Police

Santa Ana's busy corner at Fourth and Main streets added one more feature to its metropolitan appearance today. A red signal light has been installed in order to assist in quick assembly of policemen in the vicinity in case of emergency.

City Marshal Claude Rogers announced today to all officers of his department that when the signal light appears all officers immediately much call the desk sergeant at the police station for orders.

The light, authorized at a recent meeting of the city council, is intended to be operated by a switch within reach of the police officer on duty at the police station, in the city hall.

News Briefs

Recommendation to the post office department, through Congressman Phil Swing of the next postmaster for Santa Ana was scheduled to be made at a meeting of the Republican county central committee to be held at 5:30 p. m. today at the office of W. P. Menton, Fifth and Main streets. Menton is chairman of the committee. T. E. Stephenson, managing editor of The Register, and James E. Alexander, assistant postmaster here for many years, had been certified by the civil service commission as eligible.

Weekly meetings of the Union Bible class will be resumed Tuesday, October 9, it became known today following a meeting of members of the class at Immanuel hall, Sixth and French streets, yesterday afternoon. The class held its meetings last year at the United Presbyterian church. It will meet this year at Immanuel hall. The Rev.
W. H. Pike, of the faculty of the Bible institute, Los Angeles, will continue as instructor.

All former residents of either North or South Dakota are being invited to the state picnic at Sycamore grove, Los Angeles, Saturday of this week, it was reiterated here today.

A check for $50, personally presented as a voluntary donation by L. J. Christopher, ice cream manufacturer of Los Angeles, today had been added to the sum received by the Santa Ana fire department from its confectionery booth at the county fair. The proceeds were to go to a fund to furnish living quarters in the two fire halls to be erected here in the immediate future. The check had been framed and was being shown by the fire fighters today.

Members of the Orange County Builders' exchange and those named to a committee on unification of the cities' building codes were expected to attend the monthly meeting at the Anaheim Elks club at 8:30 tomorrow night. Secretary Allen said here today.

A staff change was announced today at the Hotel Cooper. A. H.
Pennywell, recently at Catalina, is coming to the Hotel Cooper tomorrow to replace E. W. Seabold, day clerk, who has resigned to accept a position at a Los Angeles hotel, he said. Seabold has been with the Cooper since its opening here several months ago.

October building was opened here with the issuance of three permits today for $7,625 in new building, making a total for the year of 1245 permits for $4,266,465 in new building, according to records of W. S.
Decker, building inspector, who expects to conclude the year with a record entry of $6,000,000.

Final reservations were being made at St. Ann's Inn here today for the California county assessors' convention to be held in Santa Ana from October 3 to 5, inclusive. G.
A. Schweiger, manager, said he expected seventy-five or more delegates to occupy quarters at the hotel. The convention is programmed to conclude with a big banquet in the Inn dining room Friday night.

The Cypress farm center will celebrate tomorrow night its winning the first prize for the best community exhibit at the 1923 county fair. A program, being arranged by an impromptu committee, is to be given in the school house at 7:30 p. m. Officials of the fair association are expected to be in attendance.

Dean Waynick, manager of the association laboratory at Anaheim, is scheduled as speaker tonight at a meeting of the Fullerton farm center, to be held in the annex of the Presbyterian church, according to announcement made here by H.
E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm adviser. Local talent will give the entertainment numbers. Waynick is expected to speak on results of his investigations in soils and fertilizers, as revealed at the laboratory, which was a farm bureau project.

Former residents of Jefferson county, Colorado, will hold another picnic at Bixby park, Long Beach, Sunday, October 7. The first picnic, held at Long Beach September 9, was such a success that it was decided to repeat the affair.

Mexicans of Delhi yesterday had an all-day picnic at the Kate Measer ranch there for the purpose of raising the quailers of a fund for securing a parish house for a resident priest in the district. The attendance was large. Various entertainment features developed for raising money were liberally patronized.

of two fire department halls in this city will be opened tonight by

BEACH CITIES WAGE WAR ON BILGE OIL

To save the beaches from bilge water from passing ships and "unsavory" contents of tankers, Hermosa Beach has issued a call to all beach cities in Southern California to join a conference at which a solution of mutual problems may be discussed, perhaps solved, according to information received here today by J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.
"Southern California beaches are endangered by the drift of oil and other matter from ships onto the strand," a bulletin of the Hermosa Beach Chamber of Commerce declared. "Our visitors are being driven away from the unsavory conditions. A mutual conference of all Southern California beach city chambers of commerce should be called to institute proceedings for the prevention of these conditions."

Woman Is Hurt When Car Forced Into Ditch

Two persons were injured when an automobile driven by F. M. Sullivan, Los Angeles, went into the ditch, following a collision with another car near La Habra late yesterday. Mrs. Sullivan sustained severe scalp wounds and J. E. Sailors, another passenger in the car, was bruised about the body. Sullivan, Mrs. Sailors and the Misses Mildred and Martha Macy, other occupants of the car, were unhurt.
Pedro Magano, Mexican boy, was in the county hospital here with a broken leg and other injuries sustained when a bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by Gust W. Anderson, 1802 West
First street, Santa Ana.

The accident took place at a turn on the state highway just south of Tustin late Saturday.

the city council. One of the halls is to be built on East First street and the other on West Third street.
Other routine matters will come before the meeting.

A meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce board of directors was announced today for Wednesday at 8:30 a. m., by J. C.
Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber.

Two additional clerks were authorized for the Santa Ana post office beginning today, according to a telegram from Senator Samuel Shortridge to J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here. No authorization, however, had been received at the post office it was stated. "Furthermore, we did not ask for clerks; we want carriers," declared the post office officials. Today begins a new quarter in the post office fiscal year when quarterly appropriations go into effect and routine additions or changes are made, it was explained.

Frank Lutz, police desk sergeant, today received a letter from Colonel W. F. Heathman, city recorder, now on a leave of absence.
The colonel wrote from the Hotel
Graystone at Detroit, Minn.
"Among the Ten Thousand Lakes," declared the letterhead. "Dear Frank," wrote the colonel. "Arrived at Detroit, Minn., this morning. Went to lake to fish, found wind blowing, so did not fish.
Will go in morning and try again.
Had a very pleasant time across the Canadian Rockies. Will soon be in St. Paul. Then to New York and my old home in the south.
Kind regards to all in city hall."

Santa Ana firemen had a duck feed today as the result of a lucky morning gunning by Fire Chief John Luxembourg, who opened the season with a bang, accompanied, he said, by numerous volleys of thousands of other nim-rods on a similar quest. "All we got were a few little ones," the chief said, as he plucked indus-triously with a tweezer at the pin feathers on a miniature edition of a duck. "Too many out," he continued, as he singed the bird over a piece of newspaper.
"They were shooting all around us."

August 'Drunks' Set New Mark Since Dry Law Put In Effect

"Drunks" last month established a record in Santa Ana since prohibition, according to the September report of City Marshal Claude Rogers, prepared for presentation to the city council tonight.

Thirty arrests were made on a charge of drunkenness last month as compared with sixteen in August, the report said.

The total police court proceedings instituted by the department was 249, as against 292 in August.
Motorcycle officers' report totaled 15; justice court proceedings, 6; juvenile cases, 12. Twelve automobiles were reported stolen and ten recovered. Fifteen bicycles were reported stolen and five recovered.

TELLS EFFICACY OF ADS IN NEWSPAPERS

Setting for the proven efficacy of newspaper advertising as a method of promoting sales, Garner Griffith, advertising manager for a local newspaper, today told the Santa Ana Ad club, meeting here, that "to get the most good out of a newspaper campaign it is necessary to take your advertising man or the newspaper's advertising man completely into your confidence and to allow him to assist you in every way possible."

Griffith outlined the history of advertising from its earliest days to the present, told of how valuable newspaper advertising is to the modern department store and set forth how such establishments make the most of the space they buy.

Miss Zola Powelson sang a vocal solo, with Miss Elsie Flour as accompanist at the piano.

More than a score of members attended.

Auto Trade Body to Stage Show at Fair

Pleased with the success of the automobile show in connection with the county fair, which closed here Saturday night, directors of the Orange County Automobile Trades association, at a luncheon at Owens' cafe today, approved ten-ative arrangements made with the air management by J. B. Glaze, association secretary, for the organization to have complete charge of the auto show to be a feature of the fair next year. Glaze said that exhibitors were enthusiastic over success of the show and that the fair management was well pleased with the manner in which the department was conducted.

The trades association will attempt next year to have a tent exclusively devoted to exhibition of automobiles and accessories.

Legion Dance Chiefs Plan Prize Foxtrot

Plans to offer a silver cup to the winners of a prize foxtrot at tomorrow night's American Legion dance were today disclosed by members of the dance committee.

The prize dance will be staged at 10:30 in the program to open at 9 o'clock with Grigsby's Californians supplying the music. A plan is being worked out by the committee whereby a handsome cup will be offered soon to the winner of a succession of events in much the same manner that cups are awarded by the yacht clubs in racing events.

Anaheim, Fullerton and Balboa were generously represented at the Legion's latest dance, held at the Legion hall Saturday night and attracting a crowd of 275 persons.
The dances will continue each Tuesday, Friday and Saturday night during the season.

Lawyer Again Absent, Fraud Case Delayed

His attorney again being absent from court, Edward J. Koerner's arraignment on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense was continued today by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams to next Friday, at 9 a. m.

The court issued instructions that Attorney J. Morgan Marmaduke, recently substituted as counsel for the defense, be notified to appear in court Friday.

We have it—
or will get it!

"What Are You Doing to Prolong the Life of Your Teeth and Your Good Looks?"

"The health of the people is one of the most important questions of the day." Anything which conceals information about health is little short of criminal.

People are entitled to know all about their teeth—all about dentistry—for infected teeth cause widespread sickness, disease and suffering. People cannot know of these things unless they are told, and the best way to tell them is to advertise.

I advertise—because advertising educates and tells where good dentistry can be had, and the great masses of the people are now getting good dentistry while under the old style only the favored few knew about it and could afford it.

AFFRAY SUIT
UNDER BAIL

Mrs. Edna Laperruque of Newport Beach, whose controversy with her husband, Charles Laperruque, cafe owner, over divorce and custody of their four children, was said to have climaxed in the daring invasion by the wife of a Costa Mesa home and the capture of the children, was today at liberty under $25 bail pending arraignment Tuesday at 3:30 p. m., before Justice J. B. Cox on a charge of assault and battery.

Mrs. Laperruque, who was said to have roughly handled Mrs. Mary Chilstrom of Costa Mesa, nurse of the children, was taken into custody yesterday. Bail immediately was posted. The authorities, meanwhile, are still searching for a man known by the name of McChes, said to have been a companion of Mrs. Laperruque in the Costa Mesa affair, and also said to have aided her in the alleged attack upon Mrs. Chilstrom and her husband.

The Rev. W. H. L. Benton, rector of the Episcopal church of this city, today was making plans for leaving next Monday for Craiton, a suburb of Pittsburgh, to attend the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the church in that city.

The Rev. Mr. Benton was rector of the parish for twelve years prior to his removal to Southern California. While there he raised funds for erecting a stone church. He has been asked by his former congregation to return for the anniversary and preach the sermon in his old church. The edifice was erected in 1910. The pastor will be absent until November 1.

Arriving home this morning from a four months' tour of the East and South, Clarence Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical association, declared that wherever he went he met persons who were keenly interested in California.

Mrs. Gustlin and her mother, Mrs. J. R. Dedlock, will arrive tomorrow morning from San Francisco. Gustlin's return a day in advance was due to the fact that Pullman reservations were not available for the entire party last night or tonight.

Delightful contacts with men and women prominent in world musical circles were made by the returned musician-traveler. He said that he is delighted to get back to sunny Southern California.

HARD WORK AHEAD FOR CAST OF PLAY

Men and women to whom have been assigned parts in "The Thirteenth Chair," the Santa Ana Community Players' association's next production, to be staged at the Temple theater here the nights of October 30 to November 2, inclusive, have their work "cut out for them," it became evident today when it was announced that beginning shortly rehearsals would be held nightly until the date of the performances.

"We have undertaken a big task," said Ernest Crozier Phillips, director, "and for that reason must apply ourselves without limit to the task of preparation.

Judging from the enthusiasm of the players, "The Thirteenth Chair" will set a high mark in local amateur theatricals, despite the difficulties it presents."

A rehearsal will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the Frances Willard junior high school on North Main street.

GUESS NEARLY CORRECT

Mrs. J. T. Wilson, 719 Cypress avenue, was given a comb by the Turner Toilette Parlors. She guessed the number of hairpins in a jar there as 2356. The number actually in the jar was 2355.

PLAN CARNIVAL DANCE.

Plans for a carnival dance to be presented October 5, by the manager of the Silver Moon dances, were announced to those who enjoyed Saturday night's affairs at the Knights of Columbus hall.

ARGONAUT MINE GIVES UP ITS LAST DEAD

(By United Press Leased Wire) JACKSON, Calif., Oct. 1.—The body of William Fessel, the "forty-seventh miner" of the Argonaut Mine disaster, was being prepared for burial today.

A crew cleaning out the 4,650 level of the mine yesterday broke through a tangled barrier of timbers and "muck" and behind it saw lying, bleached and white, a skeleton which was identified as that of Fessel.

Identification will be completed today, it was expected, when Mrs. Fessel is scheduled to claim formally the skeleton as that of her husband.

Finding of the body not only accounts for all of the men who were trapped in the mine by fire more than a year ago, but it puts an end to a long series of strange stories which have been whispered and some even published.

It was only last week that the crews reached the far removed recesses of the 4,650 level—the level on which the other forty-six bodies were found behind a barricade.

Yesterday morning two men tore away the debris from a drift about 400 feet from the main shaft and found the remains of Fessel.

Fire and the action of gases had destroyed all evidence of clothing or of personal effects. Only the bones remained.

Positive identification will be possible only by means of the teeth, but there is no doubt entertained as to whose skeleton was found.

The mystery surrounding Fessel had been deepened by the fact that when the bodies of the other forty-six men were found, it was discovered that Fessel's name and a few words had been burned with a miner's lamp on the boards of the bulkhead the men had erected in hopes of saving their lives.

It was believed some miner had attempted to burn a message, in his last moments, on these boards telling rescue parties where Fessel might be found.

Enters Guilty Plea In Theft Case Before Trial

An eleventh hour change of front by Jose Martinez, local Mexican, charged with second-degree burglary, caused him to change his plea and admit his guilt in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams court here before his trial.

Lorenzo Quiroz, charged jointly with Martinez, maintained his plea of not guilty and went to trial, defended by Attorney Guss Hagenstein of Fullerton. Martinez was represented by Attorney Albert Trujillo, who asked that sentence be pronounced. Attorney D. G. Westlin conducted the prosecution. Quiroz and Martinez were accused of breaking into a garage at the home of C. Hernandez, 1826 West First street, Santa Ana, where they were alleged to have stolen a bicycle.

JAIL THREE AS DINNER PAILS HOLD FLASKS

The "full dinner pail," as of an old-time political campaign, reposed in Sheriff Sam Jernigan's office today.

But instead of being filled with old-time political propaganda, the pail was filled with modern moonshine.

Several of the pails were in the sheriff's possession and several Anaheim Mexicans were in the county jail, following a raid late Saturday by Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan and Deputies Ray Wallace, Scott Wilson, Lauren Hurd and Pete Kruchi.

The sight of the Mexicans carrying the innocent-looking dinner pails to their work at the Anaheim sugar factory ordinarily would not have excited suspicion, the officers said, except for the fact that the time was mid-afternoon. A cursory examination showed that the dinner pails "clinked," and a closer inspection revealed that they were packed with pint flasks of liquor evidently intended for consumption by fellow employees, the officers said.

Juan Barrera, 31, and Rafael Ramos, 16, were charged with selling liquor, and C. Carona, 60, was charged with possession. A number of flasks, apparently reserve stock, were found in Ramos' dwelling adjoining the sugar factory, it was said.

ADMITS BIGAMY GUILT; WANTS PROBATION

Ellsworth Egli, movie principal who claims to be an innocent bigamist, today withdrew his plea here of not guilty to such a charge and entered a plea of guilty, at the same time asking for probation.

Superior Judge Z. B. West set next Friday, at 10 a. m., as the time for hearing on the application.

Egli, while admitting that he is technically guilty of bigamy, rests his hopes for leniency upon his declaration that his intentions were innocent of such an offense.

Following his marriage in April, 1920, to Elizabeth Mitchell of Hollywood, Egli learned, he claimed, that she had a former husband living and undivorced. He sought advice from a lawyer on "the lot," he said, and was told that the marriage was not binding upon him; that he was legally as free as if there had been no ceremony.

Upon that belief, he alleged, he entered a second marriage with Catherine Agnes McCarthy of Alhambra, in May, 1921. The bigamy charge was subsequently based upon the second charge. Both wives appeared in court to testify at Egli's preliminary hearing.

Attorney Griffith Jones, Los Angeles, represents Egli.

PLAY DIRECTOR TO RESUME HOME HERE

Ellis Rhodes, director of the Orange County Choral union, which will present "Robin Hood," Reginald De Koven's ever-popular opera, in Santa Ana in November, and Mrs. Rhodes today were completing plans for resuming their residence at 602 East Chestnut avenue.

For the past month or more, during the illness and death of Rhodes' mother, they have been living in Los Angeles.

MOVIE MEN ASK DIVORCES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Two movie divorce cases adorned the court calendar here today. Monte Blue, popular leading man, and George Melford, prominent director, are being sued by their wives on grounds of desertion.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Chosen Wedding Date Is Disclosed In Pretty Manner

That daisies sometimes tell, was proven by the charming secret which they related Saturday afternoon in regard to the wedding date of Miss Flora McFadden, charming fiancée of William Worden of Hollywood and daughter of Mrs. John McFadden, 906 North Main street.

Their tale-telling was done amid the pleasant surroundings of the A. N. Cox home at 1517 North Main street, where a congenial guest group had gathered in response to invitations issued by the Misses Anita and Vivian Cox and Verdelle Breckenridge.

The trio of young hostesses had prepared quilt blocks which the guests set together as the afternoon's entertainment feature, the quilt, when completed, to be presented to Miss McFadden. As a surprise feature to the honor guest late in the afternoon, Miss Breckenridge and Miss Vivian Cox brought in a large basket which they presented to Miss McFadden and which proved to contain an assortment of beautiful gifts in a wide variety, with which her assembled friends had "showered" her.

At the tea hour, just after the guests found their places at small tables, dainty little Betty Neff, small daughter of the Nat H. Neffs, frocked in lavender or-gandy, entered with a basket of yellow daisies and visiting each guest in turn, left a wee envelope containing the announcement of the chosen wedding date, Saturday, October 13.

Since both Miss McFadden and Mr. Worden are Pomona College graduates, they have elected to stage the ceremony in beautiful Bridges hall, open to all Pomona alumni. Invitations were issued today by Mrs. John McFadden.

As the guests chatted over the approaching wedding, they were served with ices frozen in appropriate forms of slippers, bells, cupids and doves, with delicious little individual cakes and salted almonds.

In decorating the home for the affair, the hostesses had chosen autumnal yellow and emphasized the color harmony by the lavish use of African margolds.

Their guests included in addition to Miss McFadden, honoree, the Misses Ada McFadden, Mabel McFadden, Mildred Francis of Orange, Lillis Johnson of Anaheim, Ruth Violet, Berthena Selway, Patsy Swales, Grace Smiley and Dorothy Techintin, a close friend of the Worden family and Miss Vivian Cox's roommate at college.

Motoring Northwards

Departing this morning for a motor trip with the intention of being gone a month or six weeks, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schlusserman, 1201 West Fifth street, planned to go as far north as San Francisco, traveling the ridge road and stopping en route to enjoy brief visits with many relatives and friends. They will return by the coast route and among the pleasant side-trips which they will enjoy will be one to the I. O. O. F. Orphans' home at Gilroy in which Mrs. Schlusserman, a prominent Rebekah, is deeply interested.

Blouses For Wear With the New Autumn Suits Are New Also, Both In Style and In Material

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

As autumn offers the smart new blouses, dear to every woman's heart despite her love for frillier things, the question of what style blouse to choose becomes of paramount importance.

Mildred is offered a wide variety this fall, for new blouses may be new in style and material and preferably in both. All-over embroidered materials are the latest stuff for costume blouses and the embroideries are of the flat, smooth sort—nearly always in Chinese designs or in those exquisite flower patterns that are copied from Spanish shawls.

Long sleeves are becoming more and more popular as the weather changes and pleats are good wherever they are seen. The severe blouse sketched here with a row of buttons from neck to waist is very good—especially if made of velvet and worn with a collar and cuffs of real lace.

Aid Society Members To Present Annual Talent Social

Wednesday afternoon will hold special interest for members of the Christian church Aid society for the annual "talent social" will be held at the community house at 2:30 o'clock.

Each year, each member of the society is given twenty-five cents from the treasury and the close of the year, she reports what success she has had in investing and increasing her talent and adds the sum realized to the society funds. Last year, over $150 was realized. Mrs. Hugh Gerard receiving a handsome bouquet of flowers for earning the largest sum, over five dollars.

All members of the closely allied Woman's Bible class as well as church members and anyone interested in the affair, are extended a cordial invitation to be present by the society and its president, Mrs. T. D. Knights. A social hour will be enjoyed and a musical program will be presented by Miss Viola Stevens, a vocalist of Columbus, Kansas, who will be accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake of Orange.

Sycamore Rebekahs to Sponsor Dance

Tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. hall, will be presented a delightful dancing party when Sycamore Rebekah lodge will entertain its friends and well-wishers.

A general invitation has been issued and all proceeds from the festivity will go to an excellent cause, the Odd Fellows orphans home at Gilroy, so that merry-makers will have the added satisfaction of knowing that their pleasure will give happiness to others.

The combination of the I. O. O. F. ball-room floor, noted as being one of the finest in the city, the equally noted Llewellyn's orchestra of Anaheim and Sycamore hospitality will undoubtedly attract a record crowd for the dance program to include Paul Jones, cymbal dances and the highly favored "pursuits."

Punch will offer cooling refreshments throughout the evening. Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Reception Planned For Teachers

Tuesday evening, October 2, the parents of the Lincoln school will hold their reception for their teachers, and also for those of the Logan school, an event which was postponed last week on account of the fair.

Modern Drama

Ebells' Modern Drama section will meet with Mrs. Frances Frothingham, 529 South Ross street, Friday afternoon, October 5 at 2 o'clock when plans for the coming year's study will be discussed. All members are urged to be present and a request has been made that each notify her hostess of her intentions by telephoning 2083.

Await Bride's Story In Perjury Re-Trial

Jose Hoyuela, charged with perjury in connection with his recent marriage here to Helen Louise Mattox, 14, of Los Angeles, was scheduled to go before a jury here for his second trial tomorrow at 10 a. m., in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court.

The attitude of the girl-bride, who was separated from Hoyuela at Wilmington by her father, Gordon Mattox, the day following the wedding, was being awaited with interest on the eve of the second trial. Her testimony, shielding Hoyuela, was believed to have been vitally advantageous to the defense at the first trial, at which the jury disagreed.

Youth' Forgery Trial Gets Under Way Today

Trial of Louis Swall, Santa Ana Youth, on a charge of forging a check, was under way here today before a jury in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court.

Attorney Charles D. Swanner appeared for the defense of Swall. Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moxley conducted the prosecution.

Departing Organist Honored By Choir At Gay Party

One of the pleasant events of the latter part of last week was that honoring Mrs. Albert Biner and arranged by members of the choir of St. Joseph's Catholic church where Mrs. Biner has long been organist.

The party was a farewell country since the honoree will leave in the near future for Calexico to join Mr. Biner and establish a new home there. Mrs. George Lester of 1121 North Sycamore street, opened her pleasant home for the event and was assisted in various hostess' duties by Miss Elizabeth Easton, Miss Elizabeth Paine and Mrs. W. E. Bates. Floral decorations were in pink roses, dahlias and greenery.

Games, music and dancing caused the hours to fly and delectable refreshments served at a late hour added to the enjoyable features.

At the appointed moment on the program, Mrs. Biner was presented with a handsome string of jade beads, as a mark of the choir's appreciation of her ceaseless efforts on their behalf.

Extending their sincere wishes for Mrs. Biner's happiness and prosperity in the new home were the Rev. Father Henry F. Eummen, Mesdames R. J. O'Connor, J. R. Paine, George Lester the hostess, and her house-guest, Mrs. George Wohlher of Pasadena; Madame Manuela Budrow, Mrs. Kreider, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bates, the Misses Viola Slaughter, Teresa Knapp, Bernice Gohres, Elizabeth Paine, Anna M. Young, Mamie Smakel, Elizabeth Easton, Geraldine Rodriguez, Frances Hillman and Messrs. George Lester, host, Jesus Garcia, Leo A. Young and Edward Delgado.

Inquest On Over Body Of Man Hit By Sheriff

Sheriff Sam Jernigan was in Oceanside this afternoon attending the inquest over the body of E. Castro, San Diego youth, who died at 2 p. m. Saturday from injuries sustained when he leaped in front of Jernigan's car, on the highway near Carlsbad, Friday morning.

Valentine Arballo, uncle of Castro, who was walking beside the latter at the time of the accident, swore to an affidavit Friday relieving the sheriff of blame.

Castro, it was said, had failed to observe the approach of Jernigan's car and leaped directly in front of it when he suddenly started to cross the boulevard to board a passing truck.

Husband Abusive, Says Wife In Divorce Suit

Her husband's alleged failure to provide medical care for her, added to asserted abuse heaped upon her, were stated as grounds for a divorce complaint on file today in the superior court here. Mrs. Florence Candler being plaintiff and James W. Candler defendant. The couple live in Santa Ana and have a daughter, aged 9, whose custody is sought by the mother.

The Candler were married in Windsor, Canada, November 19, 1912, and separated June 17, 1923. Mrs. Candler is represented in the court action by Attorney James L. Allen.

Authorities Seeking Two In Check Cases

S. L. Millard was wanted here today by the authorities, who hold a warrant for his arrest on a charge of issuing a fictitious check for $11 to the Orange County Ignition works of Santa Ana, September 28.

Ray Edwards, alias Ray Stearns, was also charged with issuing a worthless check for $28, in a complaint filed today by J. S. Fair of Balboa.

Sentence Is Suspended As Drinking Admitted

B. F. Roach, charged with being drunk, was at liberty here today under a suspended sentence of ninety days in the county jail. Roach was sentenced late Saturday when he appeared before Justice J. B. Cox and pleaded guilty.

EVOLUTION?

Yes—it is True! The making of lenses for the many errors of refraction has evolved until today we have a nearly perfect product.

Twenty years ago only far-sightedness was corrected with spherical lens. Today we can correct four different errors—Farsightedness, Nearsightedness, Astigmatism and Muscular Emblance—or the combination of Any or ALL Four!

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

Stocks Make Fine Display Of Resistance Since Reaction Started

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Stocks today made the best display of resistance seen since the current reaction started a month ago. On four different occasions in the last few weeks the industrial average had encountered support above the low point for the year established in late July. At last week's close the compilation was perilously close to that figure and professional operators made a determined effort to depress prices further in the morning trading today on the theory that speculative stocks would be for sale in large quantities once the previous level of support was broken.

They succeeded in effecting new lows for the year in Studebaker and Chandler and in forcing further new lows on the decline in Allied Chemical, American Can, Continental Can and other industrial favorites.

But the general list held steadily while the selling was going on and the general market showed a disposition to rally the moment selling pressure was lifted. Further irregularity was created by an afternoon run up in call money to 6 per cent which resulted from withdrawal incident to first of the month requirements. But nothing like the morning heaviness recurred and leaders maintained a fairly steady tone at slightly above the session's lows.

The market closed irregular.

Closing prices included:

U. S. Steel 86 3/4, off 1/8; Bethlehem Steel 47 1/2, off 1/8; Baldwin 114 3/4, up 1/2; Pan American Petroleum 55 3/4, up 3/4; Cosden 26 1/8, up 3/8; Studebaker 94 3/8, off 3/4; General Motors 13 5/8, off 1/4; American Corn Products 125 3/8, up 1/4; Continental Can 48 5/8, off 7/8; Tobacco Products 56 1/2, off 3/8; Baltimore & Ohio 57, up 1/8; N. ## GRAPE PRICE DROPS AS CARS RECEIVED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Receipt of strawberries were very much reduced due to the preparation of a shipment of a car to eastern markets. Grapes of the juice varieties are much weaker due to very heavy receipts. Fancy lemons are selling from $6.50@7.00 per box.

Receipts, cars: Grapefruit 1; grapes 37; lemons 2; oranges 5; apples 12; water-melons 3; bananas 1; cranberries (Massachusetts) 1; cantaloupes 4; mixed fruits and vegetables 1. Cantaloupes on track 2; broken 2.

Cucumbers were scarce and higher. Tomatoes were moving slowly at prices ranging from 50c to $1 per box. Potatoes are showing some further weakness and the tendency in prices is lower.

Receipts, cars: Sweet potatoes 2; tomatoes 14; potatoes (Washington) 2; Oregon 3. Potatoes on track 11; broken 7.

There was very little activity today and conditions appeared to be unchanged in the poultry market. Small leghorn broilers are very firm as receipts on these sizes are light. Only nine coops of live poultry were received by express.

CHICAGO GRAINS IN SURPRISE RECOVERY

Weak Liverpool Market Is Blamed For Slump at Opening

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Grain prices closed sharply higher in trading today. Displaying remarkable recovery from an opening slump, induced by a weak Liverpool market. Good buying by Northwestern commission houses, together with weather reports brought on a good class of buying on a wider scale than has been experienced in more than a week. Outsiders were showing some activity. Outside markets closed strong. Winnipeg, despite continued heavy shipments from the three northwestern provinces, maintained a steady undertone.

Corn led all other grains in strength. Old corn is scarce and producers are not showing a willingness to ship to market despite the prevailing high prices. The poor quality of the present crop, due to frost and rain damage, has forced farmers to hold supplies for seed and feeding purposes.

Provisions, although dull, closed strong with grain and hog prices.

Idle money, like idle machines, contributes nothing to the community, to the good of mankind, nor to its owner.

Likewise money invested unwisely does not contribute its maximum service, either to the man who owns it or to the community which it serves.

To exert its full earning power money must be wisely placed at the services of those enterprises which are likewise a vital force in the community and return a liberal dividend to the investor.

BIG CROWD IS OUT SUNDAY AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Hot days bring a crowd to the beach. So said the proprietors of the resorts on the pike here yesterday as they reported a banner crowd Sunday.

"Many people were here today," said one man when questioned as to "how is business?" Others were of the same opinion. The pike was crowded yesterday until early in the evening, when the cool breezes took on a tinge of frost.

The business district also seemed to have taken a new lease on life Saturday. It was crowded, to say the least. Merchants reported the best day for some time. Restaurants also did a fine business Saturday and Sunday.

The atmosphere, which has been exceptionally clear for some time, is again taking on the haziness which is characteristic of all coast towns at times. For several days the coast line was visible clearly for many miles.

Catalina Island looked to be only a short distance away, San Pedro was so close that one could almost see the men climbing about in the rigging of the battleships which laid in the harbor.

In the other direction Newport pier was to be plainly seen with the fishermen pulling out the fish. It is also said to have afforded local fishermen an opportunity to have the laugh on the Newport fishermen as the local men pulled out the large fish and dangled them in the air so that their compatriots at the neighboring beach could turn green with envy.

Catches at that beach were said by local anglers to have been very small as no large fish were displayed on the Newport pier.

Laguna Beach was also plainly seen and again some one said that Signal Hill at Long Beach looked like a huge porcupine. But the clearness did not find the navy torpedo which was lost off the coast, and for several days a government boat has been cruising up and down the coast with an occasional aeroplane patrolling the beach watching for the lost death dealer.

Santa Ana Woman To Sing October 9

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Miss Holly Lash of Santa Ana will be the soloist at the next regular meeting of the Woman's club to be held October 9 at the clubhouse on Tenth street. Mrs. J. Willis Bennie, chairman for the next program, has also made arrangements to have other talented musicians on the program, among which will be Miss Ruth Armstrong, pianist, and Ellis Rhodes, director of the Orange County Choral Union.

SEVERAL ARRESTS BY BEACH POLICE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Several men were arrested over the week-end by the local police. N. E. Hoppell was arrested Saturday morning by Officer R. "Tex" Choate in the downtown district charged with drunkenness. He paid a fine of $100.

H. Keener of Costa Mesa, arrested on a charge of intoxication by Officer Choate, was given his choice of a $50 fine or thirty days in the county jail. He is serving the jail sentence.

Laurence Caslo, 18 years old, was lodged in the local jail here Saturday, charged with violation of the motor vehicle act. He was arrested recently by City Engineer L. F. Gates, who claimed he was traveling forty-five miles per hour. He was arrested again Saturday by Chief of Police Jack Tinsley and Officer Roy Ballard in Los Angeles.

After being served with a red tag Caslo failed to appear. He is one of the California Dressed Beef company truck drivers. Numerous complaints have been received from his alleged reckless driving.

A. J. Hissner of this city was arrested Saturday by Officer John Stanton charged with intoxication. He was lodged in the local jail, pending trial.

Thomas Scrutton of Petaluma was reported to the local police department as missing. The boy was described as being about six feet one inch in height and weighing about 160 pounds. He is 17 years old and when last seen was wearing a khaki shirt and pants of the same color with a jersey coat. He was wearing baseball shoes.

GO AHEAD WITH CIRCUS PLANS THIS FALL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—With plans for the Society Circus being carried on by J. A. Armitage, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, organizations in the town are taking up the proposed plan with enthusiasm.

Several of the organizations have already declared that they will be glad to help out in putting on the stunts and special features. It is the plan to use the main block of Main street for the fair.

Mr. Armitage declares there will be everything from dances, both classical and heathenish, trapeze performances and musical revues, to side shows, freaks, and fashion shows, with maybe a bathing girls parade.

It is expected that each of the clubs in the city will contribute at least one feature to the affair. The exact date has not been set for the circus but as the plans develop and the project becomes assured it is expected that a date near the end of October will be named.

Mr. Armitage is now contemplating the installation of an employment bureau. In this way the wants of the merchants and towns people, as well as those outsiders who desire positions or jobs, can be easily supplied. Many requests have been made of Mr. Armitage for work and also for people to work.

LEGION MEETS FRIDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—The next meeting of the local American Legion post, Joseph Rodman post No. 133, will be held at the fire hall this Friday night. Several matters of importance are to be taken up. It is understood. New members are constantly entering the local post. The membership is now about sixty-five.

Watching a blind pianist in Paris distinguishing the keys of her instrument by her remarkable sense of touch, so stimulated the inventive genius of Valentine Haug that in 1784 he produced the first book ever printed with relief letters for the use of the blind.

Four Are Treated At Beach Hospital

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Four persons were brought into the Emergency hospital for medical treatment yesterday.

Earl E. Rice of Fullerton received a badly lacerated finger on the left hand when trying to take the twist out of a line break. The line slipped and caught his fourth finger, smashing it badly. He is employed by the Petroleum Midway company.

L. Johnson, a tool dresser for the Holly Oil company, was struck in the left eye when a wire line hit him in the face.

A. J. Laxson, of this city, who is employed by the Petroleum Midway company, received severe scalp wounds when a piece of pipe which he was pulling fell and struck him on the head.

John Murphy of this city received a double fracture of the great toe of the right foot when a pipe chain tong broke and fell on his foot. He is employed by the Petroleum Midway company.

W. R. C. TO MEET.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held at the Woman's clubhouse on Tenth street tomorrow afternoon.

The direction of Mrs. H. A. Gallienne, president of the organization. The meeting will come to order at 2 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Gallienne recently returned from an extended trip in England, where they visited relatives and friends.

Bride of Hour Wins Decree In Desertion

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Bride of an hour, Mrs. Margaret Demichells of 565 Columbus avenue, was deserted at the San Francisco city limits by her husband, Fredrick Demichells, cabinet maker, after they had motored up from Redwood City where they were married. That was the story upon which the wife was granted an annulment by Superior Judge Shortall. Miss Gertrude Garlito testified that she accompanied the couple in an automobile when they went to Redwood City to be married last Valentine day. Following their return to this city the same afternoon, she declared, the bridegroom told his bride that he had only $6 and that she would have to wait some time before he would be able to support her. He then departed and his bride has not seen him since, it was alleged.

PERSONAL NOTES OF BEACH PEOPLE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Mrs. J. A. Randel and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson of Whittier left today for a week at Big Bear lake. Mrs. Randel is the wife of J. A. Randel, formerly of the local police force, who is now connected with the Bolsa Chica Gun club, and is also a sister of Roy Ballard. She has been ill for some time but is now nearly recovered.

L. E. Mitchell was confined to his bed Saturday as the result of a bad cold. A general epidemic of colds seems to be making the rounds this year.

J. W. Mitchell motored to Los Angeles Saturday to look after some business interests there.

J. M. Barlow motored to San Pedro on business Wednesday. C. P. Patton, president of the Chamber of Commerce and prominent real estate man, returned last week from Elsinore Hot Springs.

W. C. T. U. TO HEAR OF ALASKAN TRIP

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Mrs. A. B. Sholly of this city will tell of her trip to Alaska at the meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to be held in the bungalow of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon. This is the regular bi-monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. and there will be several other features.

LIFE GUARD QUILTS UNTIL NEXT YEAR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 1.—Yesterday saw the close of the swimming season in the surf as far as Life Guard Harry Lee is concerned. Yesterday was Lee's last day as guard at the beach. He will be back again next year, if his plans for the winter work out according to his schedule.

Lee has done some fine work here this year. During the past season he has saved five persons from drowning in the surf. Next year he will have a corp of helpers, from among his boy friends here at the beach. Five of the boys were recently taken to Long Beach by Lee where they successfully passed the Red Cross life saving examination. Two of the boys, Eugene Belshe, and Delbert, "Bud" Higgins passed the senior life guard test and now holds the same certificate as that held by Life Guard Lee.

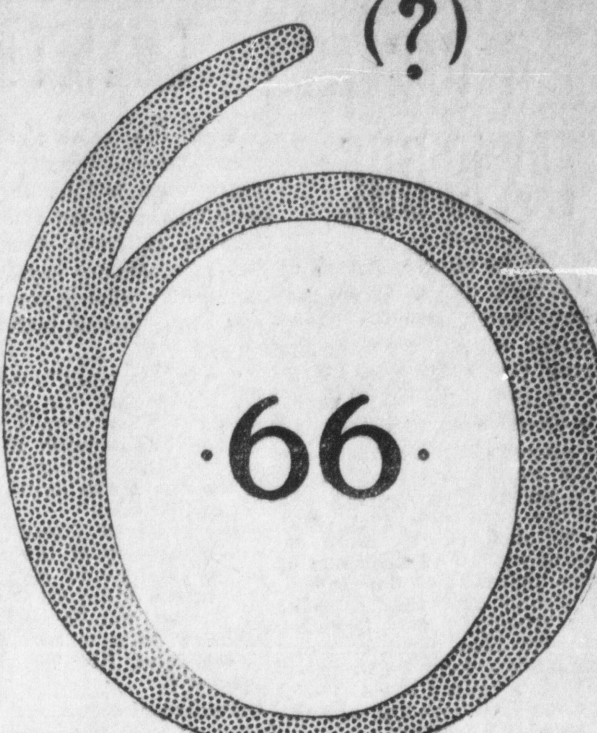

During the summer the boys were of assistance to Lee. Twice they pulled drowning persons from the surf unassisted. They also grew expert in the handling of the life boat, which was purchased by the city.

Life Guard Lee recently asked the Chamber of Commerce to take up the matter of securing swimming suits for the boys, as a token of appreciation of their voluntary services during the summer. The suits will have the special Huntington Beach insignia upon them.

'CELLARS' NOW HOLD GAS AS TAX IS DUE

According to service station attendants here today, Santa Ana motorists buying gasoline at local stations made little complaint to paying the 2 cents added by reason of the state fuel tax becoming effective on this date.

One station owner said buyers generally were heard to comment on the purpose of the tax and express the hope that the revenue would be such as to insure rebuilding of roads and extension of the main highways of the state. It was also said that sales of gasoline yesterday and Saturday were heavier than usual, as many motorists filled their tanks in order to avoid paying the tax that would have been collected had the tanks been filled today.

It was reported that in some instances motorists brought in

ANNUAL ELKS ROLL CALL SET OCT. 23

With the coming of October, Santa Ana and Orange county Elks today were looking forward with keen interest to the annual roll call meeting of Santa Ana lodge No. 794, scheduled for Tuesday evening, October 23, when a dinner and special entertainment features will be in order.

"At this meeting," said Secretary W. W. Wasser, "we hope to have with us the officers and many members of the Redondo Beach lodge, and we earnestly urge all members of the Santa Ana lodge to be present at this time."

According to Wasser, the postponed meeting of the Santa Ana lodge, set forward because of the convention of the Elks' association at Eureka, will be held tomorrow night. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday night, October 9.

Numbers of five-gallon cans to have them filled, at the same time filling the tanks on their cars.

Ebell Club Pledged $10,000 If Like Sum Made for Clubhouse

Women members of the Ebell club who contemplate participating in the campaign here for funds for the clubhouse to be erected on French street, near Sixth, were scheduled to meet at 2:30 p. m. today at the home of Mrs. O. M. Robbins, 930 Lacy street, for organization for the campaign.

Husbands of members of the club have promised them $10,000 if the women will raise an equal sum. The solicitors will work first among members of the club, and, failing to get what they deem sufficient to carry out the building project, probably will go to friends outside the membership.

The sum required to build the first unit of the clubhouse is approximately $68,000. It is known to be the desire of the women to have their clubhouse free of debt when it is dedicated, and it is possible a general drive will be made to secure pledges for the full amount.

RAID ON LIQUOR STORES BLAMED FOR FIRE HERE

An over-powering thirst was responsible for a fire which caused at least $800 damage to county warehouse No. 2, on the Santa Fe spur at Brown street, at 2:15 a. m. yesterday, according to suspicions voiced here today by W. D. Colman, superintendent of the county yards.

Election booths and confiscated liquor were the contents of the warehouse, Colman said. Several panes of broken glass in one window of the warehouse were offered as confirmation of the superintendent's theory.

"The burglars tried to get through the warehouse to the liquor, I believe," Colman said. "But they did not know that the partition in the building reached to the roof."

"In their explorations a lighted match was dropped on the canvas of the election booths, just under the roof. That's how the fire started, according to my way of thinking."

The engineer of the morning freight on the Santa Fe pulling into the yards saved the building from total loss, Colman said.

"The engineer blew his whistle and awakened me," the superintendent said. "I looked out of the window and saw the fire coming through the warehouse roof. An alarm immediately was sent to the fire department."

Between 1200 and 1400 election booths were stored in warehouse No. 2, which measured 30x80 feet. The collapsible canvas booths were packed tight up to the roof, Colman said. Their value was estimated at about $5 each.

The amount and value of the confiscated liquors, stills and other equipment taken from the bootlegger clan by sheriff and city authorities had not been estimated. The material was reported uninjured by fire.

Damage by water to the canvas booths also would be added to the building damage, Colman said. No estimate could be made, he explained, until the booths were removed and dried out.

"I should say between 250 and 300 booths were destroyed by the fire," he said. "They comprised the top layer, next to the roof."

J. L. McBride, superintendent of county highways, estimated that fire and water damaged the booths to the extent of $250 and that damage to the building would reach approximately $500.

Fire at 9 o'clock last night caused $400 damage to an automobile and arage belonging to Cecil Beard, Dresser street. The fire is believed to have been caused by a short circuit in the electric wiring on the automobile.

Check on Pupils Declared
Necessary to Complete
Public Obligations

Parents were registering their children at Santa Ana schools today, in compliance with the state school law which demands registration of minor children each year.

In previous years, teachers have made a house-to-house canvass to secure the names and ages of children living in Santa Ana. Use of the school house as a census station was begun this year. J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent, said it was to save expense in time and energy of teachers, parents and children.

Favors Monthly Check

"The purpose of the school law demanding an annual registration of minor children by their parents," Cranston said, "is to obtain a check at least once a year of the number of school children in California, both in school and out of school."

"California has a comparatively transient population. The movement of families from town to town, or state to state here is much more pronounced than in the East. An annual check of school districts, therefore, is necessary. Though, I candidly believe a monthly check would be necessary to keep track of most of our transients."

"There are families, for instance, which travel with the fruit crops. They always are on the move. The state school department tried sending teachers into the fields to catch the children of these families, but without material success."

"But the condition applies in its extremity only to that wandering class. The annual school check catches the majority of children and proves of great service and value to the school department." Regular blanks were provided at the school today for the registration. The blanks called for the age of the children, names of their parents and other needed information.

County Auditor W. C. Jerome today announced receipt of a check for $137,241.28 from the state motor vehicle fund, it being the first allotment of receipts this year. Jerome said it indicated that the county would receive about $35,000 more than last year, when the total allotment was $110,000. The auditor expects at least $10,000 more in the final distribution of revenues from the department this year.

Pointing out that the increase will be approximately 33-1/3 per cent, Jerome said it was further evidence of the increase in population and prosperity of the county.

Observance of Prevention Week Here Would Be of Merit, Is Stand

Every week is "fire week" in Santa Ana, declared First Chief John Luxemburger today, when he received advice of the plans under way for celebration of National Fire Prevention week, October 7 to 12, inclusive.

"Plans now are being completed throughout Southern California for proper observance of the week, according to reports. Civic organizations, church clubs and school associations in every city will join in an attempt to make the week one during which people will realize that the fire situation in the United States is worthy of more consideration than it has received in the past."

Cities Effective Methods
"Even in Santa Ana," declared Chief Luxemburger, "more attention can be given to fire prevention."

"Make it difficult for fires to start and it is so much easier to put them out if an unlucky outbreak occurs."

"Regular inspections by men of the fire department of vacant lots, buildings, public and semi-public, and of industrial buildings form a great factor in the prevention of fire here."

"Proper attention to inspection, and regular refilling of fire extinguishers and upkeep of other fire equipment also is an insurance against fire."

Programs Yet Untold
"We have been fortunate in Santa Ana. But only by keeping on the alert can we hold our good fortune in a low annual fire loss."

Constructive programs for fire prevention were being mapped out by committees in charge of the work for the purpose of presentation at meetings to be held throughout Southern California, according to word from Los Angeles. Announcements of meetings of local organizations during Fire Prevention week have yet to be announced.

BOOSTERS TELL LACK IN 'AD'

More Publicity Regarding Factory Possibilities
Here Held Needed

Orange county has a perfect right to be proud of its orange and walnut groves, its superb climate and unsurpassed landscape beauties but the time has come when soft-pedal boosting should be put on these and more attention devoted to telling prospective residents of the possibilities for establishing industrial centers in this section.

Such was the belief of several local boosters today when asked to comment on a statement made in Los Angeles by A. Frank, vice-president and general manager of the Ambassador Hotel corporation, who on his return from the East stated that people there are almost totally ignorant of the great advantages here for the creation of almost any kind of industries.

"I found everybody in New York, Chicago and other places interested in Southern California," Frank was quoted as saying, "but nobody seemed to realize that we are constructing factories, and making rapid progress in an industrial way."

Tells Querles

"Frequently one hears in the East like this: 'But what have you got out there? Of course, we know about the climate and the orange groves and the tourists and the motion pictures, but there isn't anything else, is there?'"

J. C. Wallace, secretary of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors, said he believed Frank was dead right on the question.

"Members of the board have been endeavoring in the past year to impress on local citizens the importance of industries," Wallace said. "Before Santa Ana or any other city in Orange county can hope to become a metropolis it must have factories to help add to its population. Orange and walnut groves are fine things but they alone cannot make this city what we would like to have it in ten years."

E. A. White, president of the Greater Santa Ana club, declared it would be advisable for local persons writing to friends in the East and Middle West to "talk up" the opportunities to invest their money in industries here.

Must Attract Capital
"To develop great cities in Orange county we must attract more capital," White said. "One of the best ways to do this is through correspondence with relatives or friends 'back home.'"

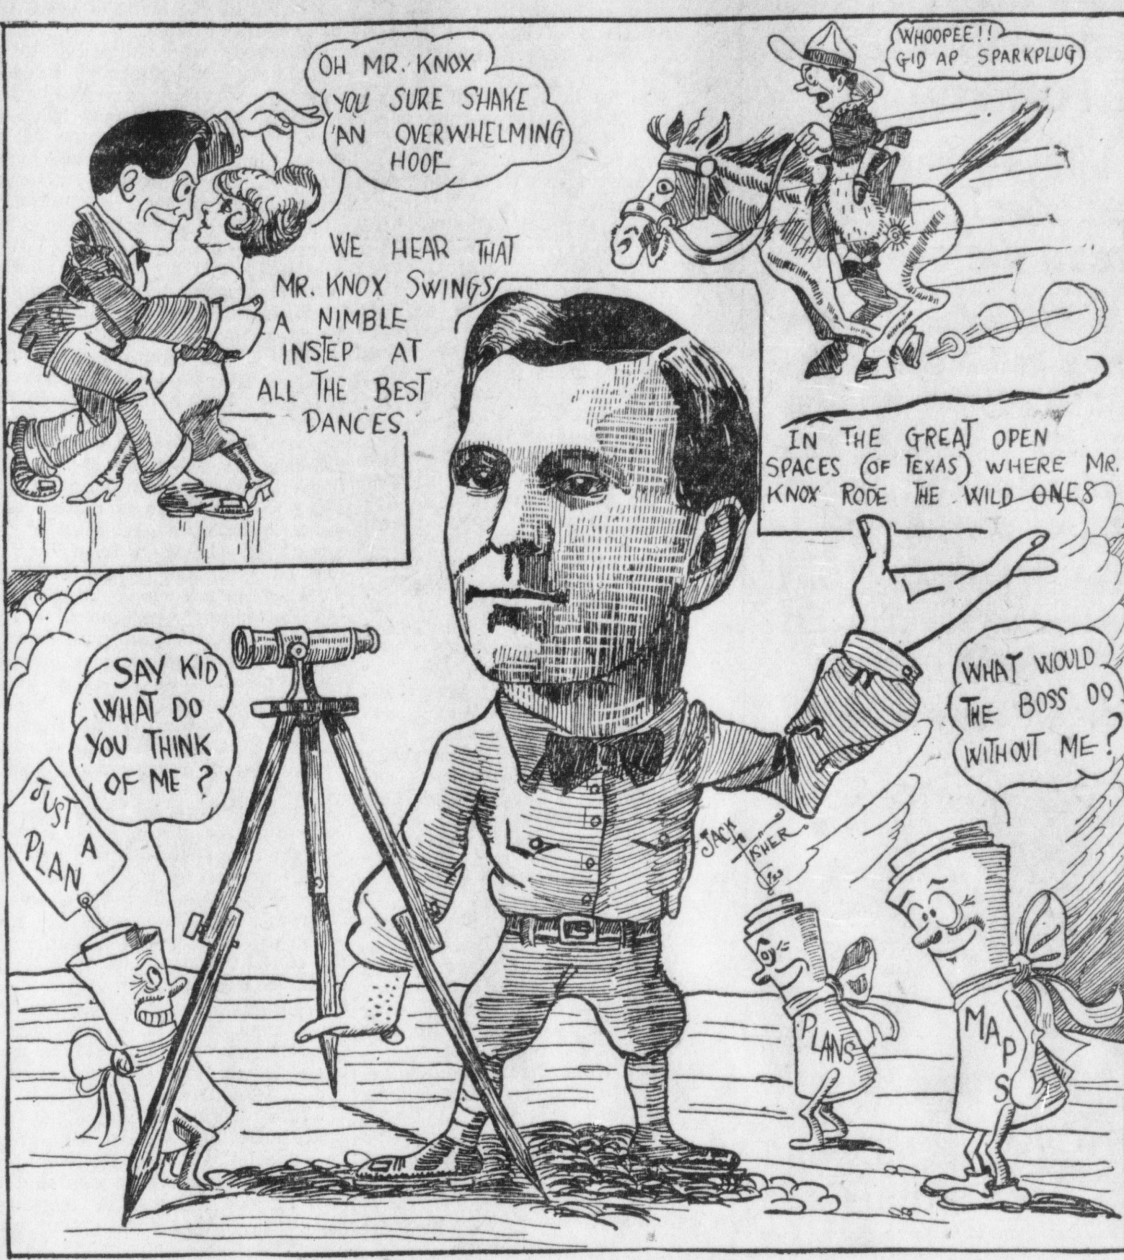

"We are so accustomed to laud the wonders of our climate, oranges and walnut groves are fine things but forget that one of the most important steps in the advancement of a section is its industrial which tend to bring more money and more people to our locality."

L. R. Crawford, director of the Greater Santa Ana club, said he had talked with Easterners here as tourists who were surprised that there were factories of any kind in Southern California. They were, he said, under the impression that California was rich in soil fertility but entirely lacking in just as important industrial localities.

"We must have more industries to attract more residents," Crawford said. "Doubtless, in past years, proud Californians have boasted our climate, our groves and our beaches at the expense of what we needed just as badly—industries."

Should Broadcast Data
"We should make arrangements to disseminate information among Easterners as to what Santa Ana has to offer business men who

HIGH SCHOOL
WISH WORK

There are more girls' names on file than jobs available at the high school employment office, according to announcement made here today by Miss Isabel Anderson, Girls' league advisor, who is in charge of the bureau. She is making an effort to get in touch with persons who wish to employ girls outside of school hours, she added.

"Many girls have asked to take care of children, or to do housework after school hours and on Saturdays," Miss Anderson said. Others have asked for typing work or office work. Several have asked to work in stores.

"A number of girls have been placed in homes where they will work a few hours a day for their board and room. Often they are enabled to remain in school by such aid."

"It would alleviate conditions now existing if persons who can offer employment to these girls would phone 307 during school hours."

Miss Anderson added that the girls seeking work were considered capable in the chosen tasks, and that homes or offices in which they could be placed must stand proper investigation, as a protection to the young women.

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT.

Today we have with us—William G. Knox, city engineer of Santa Ana, apostle of idealism and sewer construction.

He is a man possessing a deep love and understanding of music, art and the cultural things of life, and an equally deep interest in wild riding, hunting, and the typical life of the range.

A widely varied experience embracing days as a Texas cowboy, university training, work with a surveyor's gang on open desert, work on the engineers' corps in railroad construction, mining engineering with duties that took him four miles below the earth's surface, bridge builder, dam builder—in a word, a civil engineer—these and more were pertinent to Knox.

But listen to him:

Views Indian Life

"Actual experience in my profession first came to me at the close of my college course at the University of Texas. I was still in my teens then and with a group of eighteen or twenty lads of my own age, went across what is now Oklahoma, then Indian territory, on a surveying expedition for the Rock Island railroad."

"It was a wonderful life. For months at a time we would be on location and wouldn't see a soul outside our own party—unless you counted rattlesnakes and Indians. The former were exciting although monotonous. The latter were interesting. At that time they were living as their people had lived for centuries, in small teepees in true Indian villages. The wealth that has later come to them was undreamed of and they were only beginning to take advantage of the education offered by the government."

"It has been interesting to me to watch their development and

TERRORS GIVEN NAVY MEN IN CRASH TOLD

Scenes incident to the wrecking of the navy vessels on Point Honda recently were graphically described in a letter in the possession today of J. W. Shields, this city, written by his nephew, Pauline C. Reese, a member of the crew of the Delphy, the first of the seven ships to pile up on the rocks.

Reese also is a grandson of J. R. Shields of this city. His parents reside in Los Angeles. At the time of writing he was in the naval hospital at San Diego, recovering from injuries and exposure.

Clad only in B. V. Ds, he was exposed to the elements all night and a portion of the following day, it was declared.

Reciting that he had just retired when the ship struck, Reese said that he ran to the port side of the boat and all he could see was a big black object. Indicating the coolness of the men on board, he said that all the men smiled when an officer facetiously remarked, "ladies first, please."

Concerning his own experience, he wrote:

Leaps For Rock
"After watching the other boats pile up, and when our boat turned on its side, I grabbed a lifebelt and then a lifeboat and held on for fear I had not held to the boat. I would have been washed overboard. Two or three others jumped overboard from the point where I was standing, after being warned that if they did so they would jump to their death."

"Thousands of gallons of water were washing across the decks. Each time the ship was washed against the rocks by the waves, one man would jump to the rocks. It came my turn. I jumped and missed the rock, but caught hold of a line running from the ship to the rock. With the help of two men I gained the rock. I turned around just in time to see one man jump and miss the rock, with the ship crushing him as it swung back against the rock."

"After more of us had gained the little rock, the water started washing high over our heads, and, with the strong undercurrent, washed the men out to sea. Now and then

JUDGE COX HAS KINDLY WORD
FOR BREED ACT: ITS SAVOR

Fifteen Other Justices of Peace Required to Get
Share of Violators

S. A. CASES CUT N HALF

Now Can Give More Time to Each Case, Is Untimely Word to Speeders

The Breed act, California's new motor vehicle law, is fast gaining reputation as an agent of discovery, as well as a panacea for sundry motoring ailments, it was learned here today.

At least the new law has brought to light sixteen justice courts in Orange county, where only one was apparently known to the traveling public before.

The judicial eclipse, cast by local custom, whereby only the court of Justice J. B. Cox in Santa Ana was visited and the other fifteen were in the path of totality, or whatever the scientists call the blind side of an eclipse, has at last been dissipated.

The Breed act did it and nobody is happier than Justice J. B. Cox, who formerly perspired freely and muttered low gutturals in his throat at the injustice of piling all of the enforcement matters upon him.

Disappointed At First

Under a provision of the new motor vehicle act, all offenders arrested for violations of traffic laws shall appear in the justice court of the township in which the offense was committed, unless specifically requesting an appearance in justice court at the county seat.

Justice Cox hailed the promise of a new order of affairs with acclaim, when the law went into effect. He knew that few motorists were so poorly informed or so rash as to pick on the terror of the Southland's traffic outlaws. It meant long desired relief from the weekly traffic jam in court, for which the motorcycle squad used to assemble in order to keep the lines straight and carry out the weaker-kneed who might collapse at the final moment of facing the cannon's roar.

Fewer Speeding Cases
Just at the first, Justice Cox was disappointed. He admits feeling like a patient who undergoes a surgical operation without getting relief.

"They amputated my jurisdiction," he complained, "but I still got all the pain that went with it."

But now, he states, affairs are rapidly adjusting themselves under the new arrangement. Traffic law violators are being rushed to the nearest magistrates and sixteen courts are now handling part of the work that formerly congested the Cox bailiwick.

To be sure the enforcement work as a whole has been somewhat reduced as the result of eliminating the speed trap, the charges of speeding having thereby dwindled almost to the vanishing point, it is shown.

He More Time Now

But the cases that are filed are being distributed. Justice Cox's jurisdiction is confined to Santa Ana township, and the cares of even that territory are shared to a certain extent by the city magistrate.

"It has reduced my enforcement work about 50 per cent," Justice Cox said today.

"That enables me to give more attention to the cases that come before me," he added, with satisfaction.

Which statement causes a sobbing shudder to echo throughout the breadth of motordom.

"More attention!" shrieks the motorist, raising his right hand. "No, no! Ouch! Never again!"

Girl In Choir Sings Way Into Heart Of S. A. Engineer

The manner in which the young people of the tribes have returned and taken up the work of education among the other members.

Wanders West.
"There is the idealism first creeping out, you see.
"From that section of the country we wandered wherever sent. Sometimes it would be in the mountains of Colorado—again down in the swamps of Louisiana. In being with the Rock Island, at that time one of the principal systems of the United States, we had the advantage of constant change as the system entered almost every state.

"It was up in Wyoming that we had our first taste of big game hunting and a great experience it was—one which I have since repeated many times under different circumstances.
And with the enthusiasm which seems to characterize this builder of bridges, reservoirs, county roads and sewer systems, he launched into a spirited account of days in Wyoming following his marriage when, with Mrs. Knox, he would ride into the famous elk country near Jackson's Hole and bag his elk ere nightfall.

4 Years to Wait.
Underlying all of Knox's conversation, by the way, is the unvarying theme of companionship. And in seeking to stress that theme just the merest trifle (perfectly excusable on our part, wasn't it?) we discovered the thread of romance. Mrs. Knox, as is quite well known to Santa Anas generally, possesses a charming voice, clear, sweet and well-trained.

"Do you know, I heard Mrs. Knox sing four years before I ever met her," ejaculated the engineer, with that little note of gleeful surprise in his voice which bespeaks the enthusiast. And he related how he, while in Denver, used to go every Sunday night to a certain church where the present Mrs. Knox was soloist. "Just to hear the music. We went to the theater six nights a week, but on the seventh, we went religiously to church. And I didn't meet her for four years!" A little pause and one felt instinctively that no four years elapsed ere Dan Cupid finished his little game.

For Mrs. Knox figures extensively in her husband's accounts of his activities.

PIONEER STAGE DRIVER PASSES HERE, AGED 91

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Klein, 217 North Ross street, today were en route to Denver, to which point they are accompanying the remains of Ellis G. Hawley, pioneer stage driver and father of Mrs. Klein, who died at the home of his daughter here Thursday.

The body was shipped Saturday afternoon, immediately following funeral services at Winbigler's Mission funeral home, with the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Favorite songs of the deceased were sung by Mrs. Cecil Willis. Floral contributions evidenced the sympathy of friends of the family. The body will be interred at Denver, Wednesday, beside the remains of Mrs. Hawley, who died several years ago. Mr. Hawley had been a resident of Santa Ana seven years. He would have been 92 years old had he lived until February 14.

Stage Driver at 18
With the death of Mr. Hawley there passed a man who was famous in early days as a stage driver, a vocation he took up at the age of 18. He drove from Fond du Lac to Oshkosh, Wis. Later he went to Texas, where he drove on the Butterfield overland in a race between the Overland pony express and a steamer to carry a message from President Buchanan at Washington to San Francisco. He carried the message from Diamond station to Gainesville, Texas, fourteen miles, in one hour and twelve minutes.

Leaving Texas, he became assistant riding master in a large troop that made a 2000-mile trip over the West, preparing it for the Civil war. Finishing this work on his birthday, 1862, he spent the next ten years in various occupations in the central states. In 1872 he located in Kansas City. Two years later found him residing in Denver, where, in 1876, he engaged in the grocery business. 1877 he went to the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Experiences Hold-Up
While driving a stage in 1877, from Jenny Stockade to Hat creek, he experienced his first hold-up. In a second hold-up he was shot by road agents, but was not seriously wounded. Taking employment with the Homestead company he is credited with having hauled the first load of casting from the Star mill at Cheyenne, Wyo.

In the period between 1878 and 1908, he alternated between oper-

we could hear voices calling for help. Often when the men were washed back on the rock you could see them scramble to get a hand hold.

"After struggling on the small rock for half an hour or more, we got a line over another high rock, and thus were able to get out of the water.

Some Washed Away
"It was hard for the men on the small projection to hold the line, and a few men were washed from the line in their attempt to get to safety. We gained still higher rocks by walking or crawling on hands and knees. We thought we were on an island, so men and officers cuddled together to keep warm. It was man for man that night. Very few of us had on more than B V Ds.

Concerning the tying Seaman Pearson to the mast on the Delphy, of which much has been contained in newspaper reports of the catastrophe, Reese says:
"Soon after getting off the Delphy we heard a pitiful voice calling for help. It was Pearson. He had jumped overboard and tried to reach the beach, but found it impossible. When they got him back on board they found that he had jumped overboard with his glasses on, with the glasses breaking and pieces getting into his eyes. In addition, his eyes were full of oil. They saw it was impossible to get him across the line, so they tied him against the searchlight platform, high out of the water, thinking they could get him at daylight. Later the Delphs began breaking up and over she went, carrying Pearson with her."

Reese says that when day dawned they found they were on mainland, and the survivors in his crowd went to the station on the Point.
ating his own farm, driving stage and working in mines. Mr. Hawley frequently told his friends that he was the only man who ever turned over a stage, or was "fired," and admitted it.
During his seven years' residence here he made many warm friends, all of whom grew to love him because of his kindly disposition and his interesting and entertaining ways. He was remarkably active for one of his age. He was ill but two weeks, hemorrhage of the brain being the direct cause of death.

REGISTRATION OF STUDENTS IS REAL NEED

regular attendance of pupils in Orange county schools was reported today by William C. Roberts, county supervisor of attendance. "I find a constant improvement each year in regular school attendance," Roberts said. "In my opinion it shows a growing desire on part of parents and children alike to acquire as adequate an education as possible."

Roberts commented on the obstacles surmounted by many families in order that children might receive schooling.
"Instances of this nature are to be found in the Mexican colonies," he explained. "Children are numerous in the average Mexican family. Then, too, relatives of a stricken family feel called upon to render aid, though it be a strain upon resources. That means a double quota of children under one roof."

"There is a large percentage of orphaned and half-orphaned children in the Mexican colonies here. They will be found living in the homes of their kin. School to them is a grave problem. They must assist in their own support and also find time for schooling according to state school laws."

"Every year finds more of these children on their way regularly to the school house. They help to pick the various crops with the seniors of their family, but immediately that crops are in they return to school."

"The success of the Mexican schools opened here during the summer was proof of the growing desire for learning despite race, creed or condition. Orange county's school attendance problem gradually unfold as the years pass."

might be inclined to enter the business field.
"I believe many of our tourists would be interested in this phase of conditions if it were brought to their attention. Some of them might decide to invest while all would advertise the fact in their home communities that Orange county and Southern California offers industrial locations the equal of any in the country."

CADMAN'S MOTHER HEARS
COMPOSER PLAY AT FAIR

BY FRANCES DEANER

When the biography of America's foremost composer is written, Santa Ana will be assigned a role in one of its most happy episodes. The date will be September 29, 1923.

That date marked the seventieth anniversary of the birth of the mother of Charles Wakefield Cadman. It is a memorable date, too, for the several hundred music lovers who heard Cadman interpret a group of his own compositions at the piano in the entertainment pavilion on the closing night of the seventh annual Orange county fair.

Of the hundreds in the audience only a very small number of persons knew that "Mother" Carrie Cadman was in the audience; only those few knew her gifted son was in reality playing to his mother. Only those few knew it was for his mother's sake that he asked gold-en-voiced Robert Brown to sing "At Dawning"—the singer himself, did not know it until after his performance. Nevertheless, as she stated Saturday evening at the fair grounds, "Mother" Cadman, through the dim vista of receding years, will treasure in memory's storehouse, the eloquent delineation of her son's birthday greeting as voiced by Santa Ana's gifted baritone to the accompaniment of the composer, himself—a charming compliment to Robert Brown.

Happy Experience
We hear a great deal about the charm of illusion—that subtle essence which transforms the imaginary into the real. It is this essence, this quintessence that makes of Charles Wakefield Cadman's compositions when interpreted by himself on the piano, not mere "pieces" which one may applaud. They bear the significance of a genuine experience.

His group last Saturday evening embraced "The Desert's Dusty Face," the story of a caravan crossing the desert; "A Love Song," dainty and alluring; and two numbers of his recently-composed "Hollywood Suite," June on the Boulevard" and "To a Comedian."

Naturally the interest, Saturday night, was centered upon the last two numbers as they had not been heard in Santa Ana previously. Indeed, it was the second time Cadman had played them before a public audience. He leaves for the East tomorrow to begin a trans-continental tour and his "Hollywood Suite" is to be the featured number of at least forty-eight different programs to be played in as many cities.

Summer-time Visualized

"June on the Boulevard," which is dedicated to Mary Pickford, visualizes early summer, not alone on Hollywood boulevard, but in all the Southland. To those to whom a musical selection tells a story—as musical selections always do to me—"June on the Boulevard" glows with the fervor of living and of every living thing. It scintillates. It is as colorful as an old-fashioned garden and as sweet. And in and around and about it all is an elfin, elusive charm that quickens the heart-beat and haunts the memory. American audiences are going to love that piece.

"To a Comedian" has been dedicated to Charles Chaplin. This piece also will make a wide appeal. Cadman, himself, says "it is almost jazzy" so he will not mind me declaring it is snappy. He's an understanding man, is Cadman. He knows his countrymen. He knows what they like and he gives it to them. The motifs of "To a Comedian" are so definitely defined to hear the piece is like seeing a Chaplin comedy—even the little strain of pathos is there in all its tender beauty. Chaplin has written Cadman he is very happy to be identified with the piece. He should be.

"Sycamore Nook"

Later in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Wheatley where the composer, his mother, his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Oberholt and Miss Ruth Renick were guests, Cadman played the remaining numbers of the "Hollywood Suite"—"Sycamore Nook," dedicated to his mother, and "Easter Sunrise at Hollywood Bowl" dedicated to Mrs. J. J. Carter, founder of the bowl.

"Sycamore Nook," named in honor of the Cadman home in Hollywood, is a harmonious, priceless tapestry into which is woven a tale of love and kindness, of home and mother. There's the cricket's song at twilight, the wind sighing through the sycamores, the log fire crackling in the open hearth and a boy's bed-time prayer at his mother's knee. It is tender, soulful, beautiful.

"Easter Sunrise at Hollywood Bowl" is a difficult, descriptive work—a stupendous thing which serves to exploit the technique of the master composer in a manner that sends the blood surging through one's veins. It hits one a

Two Mexican laborers, a painter and a pastry cook, were lodged in the county jail today with prospects of being brought before Judge Leo Goepfer on charge of possession of liquor in contempt of prohibition laws. They were Fred Beng, 30, Los Angeles painter; George M. Baker, 32, pastry cook, Salt Lake; Conrado Rubio, 30, Mexican laborer, and Matile Arcola, 33, Mexican laborer.

rousing glow in the region of the solar plexus and you don't know whether you are going to be carried away into space through sheer power of melody or whether you are going to cry. It's that kind of a piece and, as interpreted by Cadman, himself, there at the Wheatley's, it seemed almost to rock the foundation of their hospitable home with its mighty surge of exquisite harmony.

Honors For Mother
Previous to Cadman's appearance at the fair, Miss Ruth Renick, who is a life-long friend of the Cadmans and who was instrumental in securing the composer's appearance here Saturday evening, presided as hostess at what she termed a "picnic dinner" at the home of the Wheatley's in honor of "Mother" Cadman. Ruth prepared the dinner at her home in Hollywood, brought it down by motor and served it herself in Mrs. Wheatley's dining-room.

Ruth also appeared on the Cadman program, singing a Tahitian song to her own accompaniment. That quartet of excellent vocalists—Raymond R. Miles, Ellis Rhodes, Robert Brown and Maurice Phillips—than whom there are none better in California as soloists as well as in a foursome also added to the pleasure of the Cadman "sequence," rounding out their program with selections from "Robin Hood," now in preparation by the Orange County Choral union, under the direction of Ellis Rhodes.

GATE RECEIPTS
AT FAIR NOT CHECKED UP

Although exact figures will not be available for several days, members of the executive board of the Orange county farm bureau have every reason to feel confident that the 1923 Orange county fair, sponsored by the bureau, was a success in every particular, according to General Manager R. D. Flaherty here today.

"This year's fair," said Flaherty, "was one of the best every attempted here and we have received many compliments upon the excellence of the annual event."

"Just what our financial condition will be remains to be seen, but it seems clear that the fair has made money. This will be determined at a meeting of the executive board some day this week. No definite figures can be announced until all bills are in and paid."

Saturday's Crowd 6000.

"According to the gatekeepers and others who have had some little experience in estimating crowds, Saturday, one of our best days, will compare very favorably with the banner day last year. Charles Wakefield Cadman and Miss Ruth Renick, an added attraction, packed the big entertainment tent to its capacity. Music-lovers came from all sections of Orange county to hear Cadman. Many came from Los Angeles and other counties."

"Estimates placed Saturday's crowd at 6,000. Total attendance probably was very close to last year's total—about 40,000."

Tents Are Removed.

"The management wishes to thank all those who helped make the fair a success, particularly those who have worked quietly and without thought of reward. The list would not be complete unless we mention Assistant Farm Advisor Wahlberg, John Ragan of Villa Park, J. O. Arley of Garden Grove, W. M. Ritter of El Toro and others. These workers did excellent service in the big agricultural tent. This does not complete the list, however, and we are indebted to scores who helped us. In many cases, we do not even know their names."

Workmen today were finishing the task of removing all traces of the big fair from the Union Pacific right of way. Flags and bunting virtually had disappeared from the downtown streets.

Combat that dingy film

Your druggist this week has these trial tubes. Go get one and watch the results.

Dainty people—millions of them—now use a new method of teeth cleaning. It brings them whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. It will to you. Go prove this.

All must fight film

All people who want prettier teeth must fight the film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. In old-way brushing, much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus cloudy teeth and tooth troubles become almost universal.

Dental science has now found and proved out ways to fight that film. One disintegrates the film, one removes it without harmful scouring.

Many careful tests proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Now, the world over, that tooth paste is bringing a new dental era. Careful people of some 50 nations are employing it today.

Multiplied helps

Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the

SCHOOL BONDS
TO BE ASKED
IN ORANGE

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Having purchased an attractive site for Orange's new elementary school in the West Orange district, the board of trustees of the Orange school district today were planning to meet Tuesday evening to arrange preliminary details for calling a bond issue to finance the educational project.

The bond election will probably be held in November, according to George C. Sherwood, school superintendent, who anticipates having the new structure completed by the next fall term.

The site, negotiations for which were closed late yesterday, was purchased from William Kenyon, Main street rancher.

Consisting of approximately five acres, the tract is located between Main street and Batavia street in the new territory recently annexed to Orange.

The purchase of the tract by the Orange grammar school board will represent the extension of Almond avenue westward to intersect with Pepper street, a small thoroughfare running south from Chapman avenue near the Henry Meahan ranch.

Pepper street, it was pointed out, will be widened and in time will run through La Veta avenue.

Almond avenue, on which street the new school will be erected, is expected to be extended to Main street, thus giving the new institution easy means of access from every direction.

The site contains an excellent orange grove which will net substantial returns to the school district until such time as the entire site will be needed for school purposes.

A row of cypress trees borders the tract on the east side while on the north it is bound by an eucalyptus grove, both combining to form an attractive school site, more or less secluded and distinct apart from the main traveled highways.

According to present plans, it is proposed to erect a six-room class building on the site. The structure will be of stucco construction with the latest school conveniences designed to keep pace with progress in school architecture.

It is the intention of the school board to call a $60,000 bond issue at the earliest possible moment covering the cost of the tract and proposed building.

State Almond Prices
Raised 2 Cents Pound

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—Heavy demands for California almonds have resulted in increasing the price of almonds 2 cents a pound on all varieties and 1-2 cent a pound on almonds in the shell.

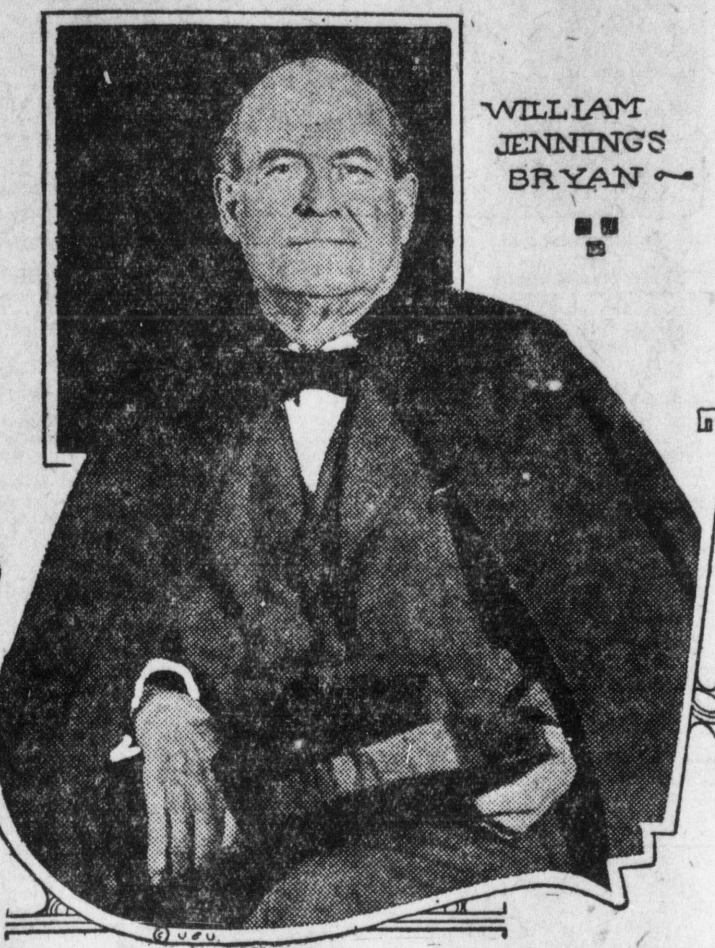

According to the California Almond Growers' Exchange, located here, these prices will be effective all over the United States and bring the price of the shelled almonds to between 25 and 28 cents per pound, depending on the variety. The exchange reports one of the largest almond orders ever recorded in California. It was received from an Eastern manufacturer and calls for 220 tons of almonds meats.

The packing house will be built on the site of the old packing house now in course of preparation. It is hoped to have construction under way at an early date and to have the building ready by February 1 next.

A site 110 feet by 235 has been obtained from the Santa Fe railroad. The property is already owned with a spur. Another side track is to be laid to increase the facilities and provide for more cars.

Already owners of 350 acres of orange groves have signed up in the new association. Norman Lombard, field man for the California Fruit Growers' association, is organizing manager for the new concern.

The packing house will be built on the site of the old packing house now in course of preparation.

William Jennings Bryan
To Address Endeavorers
IN ORANGE

This feature address of the Orange County Christian Endeavor convention to be held at Orange this year will be that of the Great Commoner Friday afternoon, October 5, at 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Orange union high school. Bryan's subject will be "Science and the Bible." The convention dates are October 5, 6 and 7.

NEW CITRUS PLANT
FOR NORTH COUNTY

FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—Organization of the Orangethorpe Citrus association and plans for the erection of a new $55,000 packing house on Walnut avenue, between Highland and Main streets, announced today by Dale King, secretary-manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange.

The new organization, which will be a purely co-operative concern, will serve the Orangethorpe sections east and west of the city limits of Fullerton. Starting with shipments of from 300 to 350 cars next year, it is planned to increase the yearly output to 500 cars later on.

Preliminary plans for the new packing house now are in course of preparation. It is hoped to have construction under way at an early date and to have the building ready by February 1 next.

Date Show Will Be
Big Fair Feature

The Date show at the Southern California fair at Riverside, beginning October 9, is attracting much interest. The date industry in the desert sections of the Southwest is developing very rapidly.

This development, however, has been a matter of many years of hard and persistent work by devoted enthusiasts in the propagation of these waters their headquarters can be registered here and will be subject to taxes by the City of Newport Beach.

Lights Badly Needed
The establishment of lights is badly needed here as it has been difficult to get into the harbor because of the difficulty in charting a course through such a winding channel. At the time Mr. Rhodes was here he was taken over the bay by Harbor master Joseph Beck and the following letter from his department is self explanatory:

Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, Newport Beach, California.
Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of September 13, forwarding request from the Newport Bay Investment Company and sixteen commercial fishermen for the establishment of certain lights at the entrance to Newport Harbor, you are advised that steps are now being taken to provide for the establishment of three lights at that place, and it is requested that you advise the petitioners in the matter accordingly.

It is probable that the lights in question can be established about November 1st.

Respectfully,
H. W. RHODES,
Superintendent of Lighthouses.

Mr. Welch also announces that the recent survey has approved the location of the harbor chamber for a map of the harbor and bay, which means that the government will in the future furnish charts to navigators desiring to enter this port.

Reside In Orange?
Read This and Weep;
Ye City Tax Is Due

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—City taxes for 1923-24 fall due here today. For the past week Will N. Parsons, city tax collector, has been mailing out notices. When paid in full the city treasury will be $97,000 richer as the result of the levy. Taxes become delinquent December 3.

The average tax bill, Parsons said, is $53.

The smallest assessment is ninety-two cents.

Fifteen per cent penalty will be laid if the tax becomes delinquent.

Taxes may be paid between the hours of 1 and 5 each day at the city hall.

PORT OF ENTRY
AT NEWPORT
PROPOSED

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 1.—Through the efforts of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, steps have been taken by government officials to investigate Newport harbor with the possibility of making this a port of entry.

This move has been brought about in conjunction with the establishment of adequate lights by the government at the entrance of the bay, these lights to be installed about November 1, according to advice just received from H. W. Rhodes, superintendent of lighthouses.

Making this harbor a port of entry means that a federal port officer will be placed here and that ships for foreign lands can clear from this port. At present it is necessary for vessels to go to San Pedro to secure their clearance papers.

The step also means that the harbor will be a place of refuge for ships in distress and that these waters their headquarters can be registered here and will be subject to taxes by the City of Newport Beach.

CITRUS MEN HELP
AMERICANIZATION

PLACENTIA, Oct. 1.—Placentia will have an Americanization school. Representatives from the Round Table club have secured the contribution of a building belonging to the Placentia Mutual Orange association to be used for day and evening classes.

The action was taken by the directors of the association following an earnest request from Mrs. John Tuffrey and Mrs. Thomas McFadden, who, representing the club, went before them at their last meeting to ask for their aid in securing accommodation for Americanization classes.

Miss Clemence Allec and Miss Druzella Mackey, supervisor of Americanization for the Fullerton high school district, will be in charge of the work. Daytime classes will be conducted for women, while evening classes will be held for the men.

For several months the Round Table club has been endeavoring to secure a location for Americanization classes. Placentia is a prominent citrus and nut growing center and has a large Mexican settlement for those working in the orchards. For this reason Americanization work is greatly needed.

The Mexicans, too, are eager for the classes to open that they may gain the knowledge of the English language and the customs of their neighbors.

PICK FULLERTON MAN.
ANAHEIM, Oct. 1.—At the Lay Electoral conference of the Methodist church held in Los Angeles, Frank P. Taggart, of Fullerton, former resident of Anaheim and a brother of Paul Taggart, was elected one of the eight delegates to the general conference, which is the supreme law-making body of the Methodist church. Mr. Taggart's name was presented by S. J. McColloch of Fullerton and stood only three from the top in the list when the vote was counted.

NEWPORT BEACH
COUNCIL MAY GET PETITION

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 1.—Considerable interest is attached to the meeting of the Newport Beach city council this evening as the petition asking for a referendum election on the pipe line ordinance, recently granted Thomas W. Simmons and company of San Francisco, may be filed.

The city clerk must certify to the council that the signatures on the petition are those of taxpayers and for that reason it was said in some quarters a delay in the filing of the petition might take place.

Both the city council and those people at Balboa opposed to the loading of oil tankers here favor an early election on the matter.

BUILDING RECORD
FOR MONTH BROKEN

FULLERTON, Oct. 1.—Exceeding by $186,451 the aggregate of the Newport Beach building figures today had reached the new high mark of $1,350,141 for the nine-month period of 1923. This established an entirely new record for building in this city.

The total for the year so far, with three more months to go, is nearly double the valuation of new building erected during 1921.

During September permits amounting to $105,165 were issued by Building Inspector E. S. Richman. Most of these were for new homes.

The monthly total is considerably in excess of August and July of this year, the figures for the respective months being $94,705 and $97,960.

Last September the monthly total was augmented by permits for the Chapman block $200,000 and the Wickersheim building, $60,000, an aggregate of $260,000 being reached.

This morning J. S. Bradford of 141 West Malvern took out a permit for a residence and garage at 545 West Whiting to cost $5,000.

Park Girls Attend
High School Party

BUENA PARK, Oct. 1.—The following Buena Park girls enjoyed the city of Newport Beach during their school group Friday evening: Betty Derby, Margie Lee, Eunice Mann, Bertha Page, Emaline Caloway, Florence Warren, Bueal Nelson, Esther Hartman, Doris Williams, and Bertha and Mabel Robison.

"The Diggers," the boys class of the Congregational church, met at the home of Mr. Fred Bastady Friday night.

H. H. Haggarty returned Saturday from her tour of the East.

S. A. Horn motored to Fullerton Friday evening.

Mr. R. E. Starkey has returned from Palo Cedro, Shasta county.

A PUZZLE A DAY

MNNNOOORR
SSSSST

By properly arranging the jumble of letters shown above, a well known proverb may be formed.

Yesterday's answer:
UU MAY COCC

The above cryptogram may be translated into the phonetic sentence: "U's may on a's, four c's on ing; which turns into the message: "Use mayonnaise for seasoning." As mayonnaise is a dressing and not a seasoning, the sentence is not exactly correct.

IT'S PLACE ESTABLISHED

Through the success scored by the 1923 County Fair, the fair is firmly entrenched as an annual event. When the fair a year ago was concluded, the general opinion was that it should be repeated, and, if possible, established as an event of every autumn. There was no doubt then and there has been no doubt since then about the need for a county fair. There has been some question concerning the financial risk, and that seems to have been the only question that has caused real hesitancy.

But the methods used last year and this year have clarified the atmosphere in that regard. The sources of income are stable enough to warrant assurance of the financial success of county fairs of the future.

ANOTHER TIMES FLING AT SWING

The Los Angeles Times, through its correspondent at Washington, has taken another stab at Congressman Phil D. Swing. Robert B. Armstrong, the correspondent, is under instructions to write his news according to the editorial policies of the Times. Of that, nobody has any doubt. The animus sticks out of Armstrong's dispatches like sore thumbs, so evident that with fair-minded readers the effort always fails of its purpose.

Swing is one of the pet antipathies of the Los Angeles Times. The antipathy goes back a number of years and has nothing whatever to do with Swing's ability or his achievements. The antipathy is founded solely upon the fact that in the long, bitter fight that has been waged in Imperial county over water rights and canal locations Swing has stood with the common people against the syndicate, in which Harry Chandler, of the Times, is the principal owner.

The Times does not propose to give Swing a square deal in anything. It proposes to belittle him, stab him, to wring his neck, politically.

Fortunately for themselves and for Swing, the people of the eleventh congressional district know the situation too well to worry over what the Times has to say. Belittlement of a man who has served his district as faithfully and ably as Swing has served his district by a newspaper that is not published in the district in itself indicates ulterior motives, and when belittlement comes from the Times, suspicions are immediately aroused, for the policy of the Times in making its fights is well known; the Times carries its fights not only through its editorial columns, which is where editorial opinions should be voiced, but also through the news columns, which ought to be used to present news, uncolored and free from distortion, and not editorial opinion and personal bitterness disguised as news.

PARKING TEN YEARS HENCE?

The traffic problem in cities, says a prominent automobile man, addressing an automobile convention, is not one of rules and signals so much as space. "The city which first provides space for all kinds of traffic will be ahead of any rival city hoping to compete with its progress."

This means particularly ample parking space, and the relegation of parking to places where it will not interfere with business. As managed at present in most communities, says this critic, parking does interfere with business instead of helping it.

"The merchants will finally realize that instead of helping their trade by allowing people to park in front of their places, they are really cutting down their sales, because enough people cannot park there. Every city is a jam of roaming automobiles looking for a place to park."

Eventually, he says, adequate parking facilities will be established just outside of the congested business districts. People will leave their cars there and then walk to the stores they patronize, or ride there in rapid, cheap taxicabs that will stop at the curb only long enough to discharge their passengers.

When we read anything about the crowding of motor cars in cities, naturally our thoughts turn to conditions in the city in which we live.

"It's bad enough now in Santa Ana," said a merchant a few days ago. "What will it be ten years hence?"

The question is worthy of consideration. Ought Santa Ana today buy parking blocks?

WALL STREET AND OUR PROSPERITY

The New York Stock Exchange is always identified with Wall Street. The latter is still supposed to control American finance and the former is still regarded as the barometer of American business. When prices, therefore, drop on the Exchange, people everywhere tend to think that something is fundamentally wrong with national business conditions. Thus recent losses in stock quotations have had a discouraging effect.

It is pointed out by Theodore Price, one of the most experienced critics of business and finance, that this is a mistake. The stock market, he says, can no longer be regarded as a barometer whose rise or fall foretells fair or stormy weather, because it is no longer representative. His argument is convincing.

National investment capital is no longer concentrated in Wall Street, and there are now a score of cities with local investment markets as important as New York's used to be. People everywhere have plenty of investment opportunities at home, and take advantage of them. There is little interest now, around the country, in the marginal investment which is so characteristic of the New York Exchange. Big capitalists no longer deal so heavily in Wall Street, because the income tax takes too much of speculative profits. The Federal reserve system has established a dozen centers of finance, each with its own problems and opportunities.

All of these conditions combine to make stock movements in the metropolis vastly less important than they were a few years ago. The wise investor or business man therefore will disregard casual fluctuations there in the price of securities and keep his eye rather on other, more substantial indications throughout the country. In doing so now, he is likely to forecast fair weather.

We were impressed with the reasoning outlined in an address before the Orange County Bankers' association at Huntington Beach recently by H. M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker. He declared it his belief that the country at large and Southern California in particular can look forward with confidence to a period of ten or twelve years of fair prosperity. His conclusions were based on conditions in general, and, so far as this portion of the state is concerned, to conditions peculiarly our own. The factors that in his mind loom as the greatest factors in assuring Southern California of substantial prosperity for some years to come are the certainty that the eyes of untold thousands of longing easterners are turned toward California and the certainty that oil and other California products will bring to this portion of the state many millions of dollars annually.

These are factors with which Wall Street has nothing to do.

What Are the Agonies?

Kansas City Star.

A writer in the New Republic says the people will not find in President Coolidge "a leader who will find and show the way out of the agonies of this country and of the world." The sentence is quoted because it is the sort of thing that is done in much of the current writing.

"The agonies of this country!" Oh, come, now. What agonies? At the risk of seeming utterly unimaginative if not heartless, The Star has to confess that anything worthy to be called a nation's agonies had escaped its attention.

There are plenty of things to be corrected, heaven knows. There are farmers who have had a tough year. There are men out of jobs. There are city governments that go wrong. Most of us perhaps think we should get more for our services or whatever we have to sell, and pay less for what we have to buy—though how such a condition could be brought about is hidden from wise men besides the President.

But take it by and large, with employment at high wages general, with people lapping up motor cars by the million, the country seems to be doing fairly well. Those agonies the gentleman speaks of; where are they? Shouldn't they be pointed out before Mr. Coolidge is blamed for not leading the country out of them?

Fight Warfare By Education

Pasadena Star-News

The school should become the greatest foe of warfare. The grand army of teachers and pupils should march, in serried ranks, to Armageddon with the militaristic forces and influences of the world. Not in bloody battle, but in peaceful contest on the fields of reason and humanity.

The first organized step for the pacification of the world through educational influence has been taken at San Francisco, in the forming of the World Federation of Education Associations, whose chief aim is to promote universal peace through educational methods. About forty countries, through their representatives at the National Education Association convention, became parties to this highly significant movement.

By binding together the youths of the world, peace should be promoted quite successfully. Teach the boys and girls of every civilized land not to hate each other; not to be suspicious of each other; not to want to make war upon each other, but to strive for the maintenance of peace and good will—impart this kind of instruction, and the cause of peace surely would be furthered immeasurably throughout the world.

A Living Constitution

Stockton Independent.

One of the most useful features of Constitution Day was the emphasis placed on the study of the Constitution in the schools. It developed that only half the states in the Union have enacted laws making such study compulsory. The whole 48 states should do likewise, not to mention the territories that hope to be states.

"The Constitution," as President Coolidge well said, "is not self-perpetuating. It is to survive, it must have public support."

It cannot have public support and cannot survive unless it is known, unless it is a part of the active body of knowledge in the minds of the people who make up the nation.

It is often said to be a fault of Americans that they enact a law and then regard the end sought as accomplished. People who do that forget that a written law is nothing in itself. The Constitution, as merely a set of printed words, stored away within the book covers of law libraries, will never guide and control the United States and safeguard the people's liberties. It is effective only in so far as its provisions are living things, in the minds of men and women.

A Notable Program

Riverside Enterprise.

The school board of the City of Riverside is to be congratulated upon the manner in which it has brought about the near completion of its school building enlargement program. Out of the $500,000 bond issue, calling for elementary, high and junior college building improvements, all of the buildings have either been started, completed or contracted for, with the exception of the Palm Avenue building, plans for which are being advertised for in this issue of the Enterprise. The last big contract let was for the $100,000 Junior College building to the Cresmer Manufacturing company.

The improvements have been carefully spread in the city in such a manner as to take care of all of the most crying needs. There is the $175,000 girls high building, now being added to the Poly High group. There is the handsome $86,000 new Lincoln school building. The Casa Blanca building is costing about $22,000 and the Improvements at Magnolia, $16,000. Irving and Palm Avenue schools complete the list.

ONE SIDED HEADACHE.

This annoying condition has been more or less of a puzzle to the physician for over a century. It is a pain which comes on at regular intervals accompanied by nausea, vomiting, and numbness. The thing noticed in nearly every case is the exact location of the pain above the eye, or even in the eye itself that comes periodically and lasts a couple of days. Very often the patient remembers that one of his or her parents suffered with the same thing. In vain have physicians endeavored to get at the cause of it. Eye strain, overwork, excesses of all kinds have been blamed from time to time. The fact that there is frequently nausea and vomiting, and also a "bilious" feeling has led many physicians to blame it on the liver. Now this leads the sufferer to cut down his food supply often to the extent of almost starvation and this is a mistake. In fact most of the cases are below normal weight.

The question is can it be helped? The answer is "Yes." The outdoor life, plenty of proper exercise, and the natural daily evacuation of the bowels seem to lessen the number and severity of the attacks. As a matter of fact nearly ninety per cent of the sufferers with this form of headache give a history of constipation. So you see the cause may be due to the poisons from the waste matter in the intestines. It is a reasonable supposition, isn't it?

"Vot Awful Meals Dot Feller Serves!"

A Little Talk on Thrift

By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift

Out of 100 average white male adults, nine leave estates which will produce $50 a month or more at 6 per cent net; 27 leave estates which will produce an average of $20 a month at 6 per cent net; and 64 leave little or nothing.

These figures were obtained as the result of a survey made by Joseph J. Devney, economist and author of "Devney's Economic Table," among 20,000 adults throughout the United States. Assistance was given the compiler by 1,000 bankers and life insurance men. The reports showed the ages of the deceased, occupation, net estate and life insurance. More than one year was taken up in Mr. Devney's investigations, so he states, and the final results of his intensely interesting studies have but recently been made public.

Similar investigations have been made in this country from time to time and all have resulted in about the same general indications. Statistics, of course, have varied at different periods and in different parts of the country, but they have never varied on the one outstanding point that the closing years of the lives of many of our citizens has found them more or less dependent on others for financial succor.

These facts should serve the purpose of a timely warning to the millions of Americans who today are in the full enjoyment of health and prosperity.

The rules of life do not vary greatly. The 64 adults referred to in Mr. Devney's report were no less prosperous than 64 out of 100 average men today.

It is true that no individual can escape. It is true that more and more of our people are appreciating the value of thrift; savings are growing in our banks; our list of home owners is increasing; thrift is rapidly finding its way into the curricula of our schools.

But the actual conditions show that all too few of our people are able to hold onto the wealth they have helped to create.

It becomes a matter for each individual to study closely the situation that confronts him personally.

While you are able to earn and save, do so. Make the resolve that, under no circumstances whatever, will you ever become one of the 64 out of every 100 who leave little or nothing to show for a whole life's work.

Worth While Verse

WHITE SUNLIGHT ON A HILL

Since I have seen white sunlight on a hill
There is no venture that my heart must dare
But I shall meet it with a braver will,
Wearing the same glad smile the sunbeams wear.
The proud earth lay with morning at her breast;
I saw the sunlight, dropping gold betimes,
Slip through the shade and climb a far hill crest,
Gaily, as one who loves adventure climbs;
I saw white fingers pluck at leaf and grass;
A dewdrop poised and glistened—and was gone.
Night fled, I saw the last lone shadow pass . . .
And whether hope was kindled or the dawn,
I know not. But my courage naught shall still,
Since I have seen white sunlight on a hill.

Time to Smile

HE SURE WOULD!

Yabbsley got a telephone message from someone whose name was murmured and who immediately hung up, giving no phone number of his own.

"The message was: 'There is a man sitting in the street near Eighth and Main, who would give almost anything on earth to see you.' It sounded fishy, but Yabbsley was vain, so he hurried to the appointed corner and found a man with an accordion and a tincup, placarded:

"Help the blind."

Owning Your Own Home

By U. S. Department of Commerce

Salient facts and information necessary for the prospective home owner and those planning the purchase of construction of a home have been provided by the division of Building and Housing of the Department of Commerce in a handbook entitled "How To Own Your Home," which has just been issued as a government publication.

How much to pay for a home, how to finance it and where to obtain a mortgage on it, selection of a site, how to make the purchase, choosing plans, selecting the contractor, judging the quality of a house already erected, and estimating the probable expense of home ownership, are discussed in detail in "How to Own Your Home."

The results of exhaustive surveys of existing conditions made by the government in regard to many of the knotty problems of home seekers have gone into the simply-worded paragraphs of the handbook. Civic and business organizations have also co-operated in its development.

"How To Own Your Home," which is a valuable guide book for the home-seeker, was written by John M. Gries and James S. Taylor, of the Department of Commerce, and contains a foreword by Secretary Hoover. The handbook, which costs five cents, may be obtained simply by sending a nickel and your address to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Business groups are looking at the home-owning proposition in a new and more favorable light, Secretary Hoover states in the foreword to the little government manual. He says: "They see that taking a neighborly interest in developing sound financing and other machinery for the use of home-seekers, and insisting on the observance of honest, straightforward methods by those who deal with home seekers is not paternalism, but good business and good citizenship. It is the 'square deal'—and it is not only right but essential that the cards should not be stacked against the home seekers."

"Maintaining a high percentage of individual home owners is one of the searching tests that now challenge the people of the United States," Secretary Hoover points out. "The present large proportion of the families that own their homes is both the foundation of a sound economic and social system and a guarantee that our society will continue to develop rationally as changing conditions demand."

"Buying or building a home requires the use of sound judgment in seeing that the personal needs of the family are best met with the funds available," Mr. Hoover says in the foreword. "It involves not only the carrying on of transactions of financing and buying or building, but it involves the proper determination of location with respect to school, to work and to neighborhood." Secretary Hoover states that the automobile has given a "great impulse to suburban life and an increasing possibility of more ownership."

"A family that owns its own home takes pride in it, maintains it better, gets more pleasure out of it, and has a more wholesome, healthful and happy atmosphere in which to bring up children. The home owner has a constructive aim in life. He works harder outside his home; he spends his leisure hours more profitably, and he and his family live a finer life and enjoy more of the comforts and cultivating influences of our modern civilization. A husband and wife who own their own home are more apt to save. They have an interest in the advancement of a social system that permits the individual to store up the fruits of his labor. As direct taxpayers they take a more active part in local government. Above all, the love of home is one of the finest instincts and the greatest of inspirations of our people."

The guide book offers a wide range of information useful to the prospective home seeker. It is explained that "if a certain family pays a sixth of its income for rent, it may be able to devote one-fourth or more to buying and maintaining a house, for the amount thus used may include both rent and savings. Rent, or payments on a home, may require anywhere from one-eighth to one-third of the family income, depending on the special circumstances in each case."

Home owning is encouraged in this vein by the compilers of the guide book: "Most men and women who buy a house have never done it before, and are usually unskilled, as people generally are in the things they do but once or twice in a lifetime. But lack of experience should deter no one."

"The prospective home owner who uses his common sense in considering the real needs of his family and the ability to pay, and who checks his own judgment by consulting experienced persons, may go ahead with full confidence. He need not be frightened by the mistakes of heedless persons who have been carried away by some novel feature and coaxed into a bad bargain, or who have tried to buy beyond their means. While some risks are involved, as is usually the case in obtaining anything worth while, the danger of failure is relatively small when weighed against the advantages of an owned home."

It is explained that the amount that can be paid for a house depends partly on what interest rates are charged for the money borrowed to make the purchase, and the rate at which the principal is to be paid off.

"Treating the financial aspect of the home buying proposition the booklet declares that 'Borrowing money to buy a house is no disadvantage. On the contrary, it is normal and in many ways desirable.

JOHNNIE of the CIRCUS and his CUFFY BEAR ~

~ By ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

Johnnie ran to get the Commodore.

Who astonished the tall farmer

COMMODORE MUGGETT TO THE RESCUE

Mr. Guffey, the Giant, wished that the farmer, who was taller than he was, would go away. But the tall farmer and his friends were having a delightful time teasing Mr. Guffey. They seemed to have no idea of leaving the side-show.

Mr. Guffey was miserable. Desperately he looked over the heads of the laughing crowd, but there nobody to help him. Even the lecturer was smiling broadly. Even the freaks on their platforms were the freaks on their platforms were enjoying this joke at Mr. Guffey's expense. The Fat Lady was shaking with laughter, like a mountain under-going an earthquake. The Living Skeleton was cracking his knuckle joints—an unpleasant habit of his, when he was amused. The Indian was across his face. There wasn't a single freak that didn't delight in the Giant's discomfort.

But no! Mr. Guffey's gaze at last fell upon Commodore Mudgett the Midget. Here, at least, was one friend. The Commodore looked distressed. He was striding up and down his platform, stamping his feet clenching his tiny fists. Mr. Guffey was sorry that the Commodore wasn't about eight feet tall, instead of less than three. He was entirely too small to be of any help. He couldn't even leave his platform, for fear of being trampled underfoot.

All at once Mr. Guffey's face lighted. Ah! Here was another friend. Johnnie Green was not laughing. He stood quite near the Giant, gazing at him with a worried look. "Go get the Commodore!" Mr. Guffey bade him in his husky voice.

Johnnie Green wriggled his way out of the crowd. He snatched Commodore Mudgett the Midget off the platform. And holding him high in his arms, he began to struggle back to Mr. Guffey.

The Commodore's small features were working with rage. When he was near enough to the tall former he struck that huge person on the chest with his little fist. "Get back!" he cried in a shrill voice. "Can't you see that Mr. Guffey is faint? Give him air!"

It couldn't have been the force of the blow that made the tall farmer fall back. It must have been his astonishment. His mouth fell open. His jaw wagged several times. But no words issued from his mouth.

"Repel boarders!" shrieked Commodore Mudgett. In his excitement he thumped Johnnie Green with his heels, to urge him on. Johnnie Green pressed on after the tall farmer. Meanwhile the Commodore's arms whirled about in the air like the sails of a miniature windmill in a heavy gale. "Don't give up the ship!" the Commodore chanted.

All at once the tall farmer turned and ran. Johnnie followed him to the exit. And there Commodore Mudgett ordered Johnnie to stop. "Avast, my hearty!" he sang out. "We have met the enemy and he—he's gone."
